VOLUME XII

PUBLISHED BY THE JUNIOR CLASS AT JUNIATA · COLLEGE

DEDICATION

◆ ◆ ◆

To Chester L. Langdon, an honorary alumnus and member of the Athletic Board of Control; a conscientious worker for better conditions at Juniata; a firm supporter of its ideals; in truth, a loyal Juniatian, we, the Class of 1931, dedicate this volume.

CHESTER L. LANGDON

APPRECIATION

◆ ◆ ◆

TO members of staffs of past editions who gave sincere advice and who had the interests of the success of the annual at heart; to those persons who contributed toward the editing of this volume and to any others who in any way helped to make easier the compiling of this chapter of Juniata life we express our gratitude.

FOREWORD

WHEN college days are ended with the varied experiences of work and play, disappointments and success, each one feels a keen regret at the breaking of daily associations with their Alma Mater.

If this short and varied account of your life upon the Hill will bring back memories in the future and will help spread some measure of appreciation for it all, we feel that our objective has been attained.

THE NATURE OF THE STORY

IN a phosphorescent cavern, carpeted with downy moss and cooled by the breezes, lived a peculiar being. His feet were cloven and his legs were covered with dark, brown wool while his head was a mass of curly hair from which peeped two bony prongs.

When the light of the sun was no more and warm zephyrs whispered the message through the trees, Pan, as he was called, felt it in his breast to go out upon his beloved earth once more. From Zeus he had received the right of dominion over land and growing things; and by night he watched them grow—the hills, the trees, the flowers. To them all, he would croon and play his pipes.

Sometimes when fancy struck him, he wandered about his terrestial domain and viewed with no little pride the products of his handiwork. All about him stretched the rocky fastnesses and the quaint formations that he had made in whimsical states of mind. All—living memorials to his fancies. There were the waters spouting and shooting from the earth into the air—his fireworks; there, the mighty rivers; there, the giant trees that reached high up to Zeus; there, the beautiful flowers, the winged folks.

Of all these, there was one spot the nature god loved best. It nestled on the banks of a sparkling, blue stream; was crowned with a brilliant sunrise and an even more beautiful sunset — a picturesque tableau. It was truly a "jewel among a thousand hills." Situated within this luxuriant valley was a hill that he had molded when in one of his playful moods. With artistry he molded so that it resembled the watchful leonine guardian of the gates of Zeus on fair Olympus. This was king of them all.

With the coming of man into his valleys, the freedom of Pan was curtailed and he was forced to be satisfied with whatsoever came. Even yet, he ventures upon the high crags and talks to the eagles and, even yet, he sits among the reeds and softly pipes the joy of life into all about him; and, even yet, when you hear the soft swish among the trees at night and a wail through your window, you may feel sure that Pan is on his way, inspecting his cares, playing his pipes or watching you.

Our "Prexy's" Last Message

To My Students:

Your year book mirrors Juniata. In it one may see the pageant of the year as it swept by from day to day. Under all its multi-foresealments, two things stand out—should stand out—in bold relief.

The quest to know, the daily march to classrooms, to library and the quiet hours in your room. This seeking-for-the-truth is most praiseworthy and in one fine way figures the measuring of life in a college. You may in the years to come forget much of the specific facts you now treasure; but there will always remain a trained and disciplined mind—the creative power to analyze your environment and adjust it to your good and to the good of your kind. You will always have the insight, keen and discriminative, to know the vital from the incidental facts of life and the will to act in wise and helpful ways. You will be kept by your college training from hasty and foolish actions. You will be rich in restraint, strong in will, noble in action. This the college gives to those who play up to their opportunities day by day.

You will also acquire here a loyalty that is in many ways the crowning virtues of life. Not only the loyalty that vociferously cheers a worthy performance in athletics—valuable as that is—but vastly more meaningful, the loyalty that is the express outflowing of a love for your college and its ideals of life. Loyalty to your college is the crown of college loyalties. It holds you in secure bonds of behavior in harmony with the highest things in human conduct—loyalty to the teachings of your faculty; loyalty to the fine things in your fellow students; loyalty to the great and growing Juniata family out in the great adventure of life activities; loyal to the great God, whose you are and whom you have been taught to love, to worship, and to serve.

These are the offerings freely and frankly given you. These are your heritage as you go hence to the world's work. May the blessings of our Heavenly Father be yours always.

Sincerely,

M. S. Brumbaugh

MARTIN GROVE BRUMBAUGH

A.M., PH.D., LL.D., LITT.D., L.H.D.

President (1894-1915; 1924-1930, March 14)

This page is respectfully dedicated to the memory of Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh who died March 14. His name will go down in the annals of Juniata College as one who "chose to give the afternoon of his life to this little Christian College, for which he worked, prayed and sacrificed."

"Friendless? Nay for still I feel
Thou walkest with me in the night,
Shoulder to shoulder, heel to heel,

Prizes for 1929

THE DR. A. B. BRUMBAUGH PRIZE

For proficiency in physics, chemistry and biology throughout the college career, this award of twenty-five dollars was given to Walter J. Hamer. The prize is a memorial to A. B. ## THE DR. E. J. STACKPOLE PRIZE

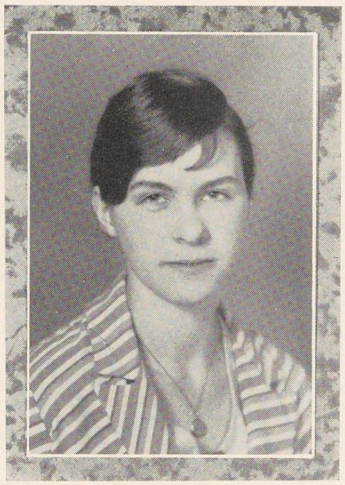
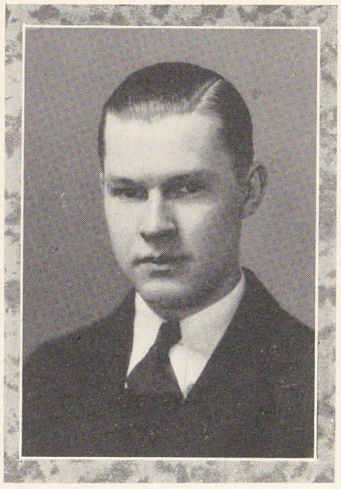
Thomas Knepp was the recipient of twenty-five dollars for the most important contribution to the history of the Juniata Valley. This prize is the gift of Dr. E. J. Stackpole, of the Harrisburg Telegraph.



HELEN HARNER



MARLYN MILLER

The George W. Warfel Prizes—1929

As the person from the viewpoint of the faculty who best filled the requirements as the one man, "who, in his relations to the standards of the College, to the Faculty, and to the student ideals and activities, gave the best expression of the grace of obedience as the fundamental virtue in religion, social life and business activities," Marlyn Miller was chosen. By this obedience is meant, preferably, not a blind following of others but the carrying out of one's duties in the best way and according to a sense of right. Marlyn was editor of the Juniatian, one of the Alfarata staff members, a Sigma Delta and class treasurer (4); and, in each of these, performed his duties in obedience to the ideals and regulations attached to them.

The other recipient of the Warfel prize was Helen Harner, a quiet, efficient miss who had a way to win hearts that was all her own. The former Alfarata stated that "her sterling worth is fully realized by only those who know her best" but it should have read, "her sterling worth is readily realized by all who know her." Her activities were many and various. As vice president of the Women's Council, secretary of the Junior-Senior Court and chairman of Activities Committee, she had more than her share of business; and as a member of the French Club and Arts Club, she shared in the social activities of the college.

Founders' Day

April 17, 1929, was celebrated as the fifty-third anniversary of the founding of Juniata College. Ten-twenty-five o'clock marked the beginning of the activities. The procession formed at Founders' Hall and marched to the Stone Church.

Accompanied by Mrs. Gilbert at the piano, Prof. Karl V. Gilbert opened the program with the violin solo, "Gloria in Excelsis." The Scripture reading and prayer was given by Dr. A. B. Van Ormer. Following this the Girls' Glee Club, directed by Prof. C. L. Rowland, presented "Greetings to Spring," by Strauss.

President Brumbaugh, after a short address, introduced the main speaker of the commemorative day, the Hon. Emerson Collins. Quite eloquently, Dr. Collins pointed out that this is an age of machinery but not a machinized age, stressing ideals, spiritual and human. At the conclusion of the address, the Men's Glee Club sang Dudley Buck's "On the Sea."

After this presentation, Mr. William Hartman Woodin, business man par excellence, was presented by Dr. I. H. Brumbaugh for the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws. Dr. A. B. Van Ormer pronounced the benediction and the combined Glee Clubs sang as a recessional "Jesus Shepherd of the Sheep," by S. P. Warren.

The new dormitory was opened for inspection until five o'clock at which time, the observation of the fifty-third anniversary officially closed.

May Day

In the "Garden of Happiness" in the "Land of Long Ago," where the Night Wind passes lightly through the trees and where, in the sunlight, butterflies flutter!! Fairyland!!!

Midst such a setting was portrayed on May 22, 1929, one of the most colorful May Day festivals ever held at Juniata. Following the Cinderella story from Swedish legend, the celebration was quite different from others held in the past.

The merry-making began with singing and dancing in the "Garden of Happiness" at which time Prince Charming, Arthur Ferner, and his court arrived in search of Cinderella. He tried the golden slipper on all maidens' feet in vain. At last, it fit the foot of Cinderella and Prince Charming left to prepare for the Bridal.

The procession arrived in the "garden," heralded by Claude Flory. Sitting on a white throne with its lattice of flowers and background of green, the Queen of May, Helena Rohrbaugh, was crowned by her maid of honor, Sara Conner. While the maids-in-waiting were paying homage to the beauty of the Queen, the jester, William Arey, gamboled about, making merry.

Fairy tale and story book characters such as Mother Goose, Jack and Jill, Jack-in-the-Box, Old King Cole, etc., performed after the May Pole winding for the pleasure of the Queen and her Prince.

The beauty of the summer day brought the spirit of May to its highest peak. The sun ebbed in the west and the festivities ended as the Night, Moon and Stars appeared. The Queen with Prince Charming and all her court departed to the "Land of Long Ago."

SENIORS

JOHN R. BEERY

Martinsburg, Pa.

Morrison Cove Vocational School

Arts; Class President 4), Vice President (3); Secretary of Student Council (4); President of Art Club (3, 4); Student Assistant in Mathematics (4); Associate Editor Juniatian (4); ALFARATA Staff (3); Basketball (3, 4); Football Manager (4); "J" Club (4); Glee Club (4); Press Club (4); Chemical Colloquium (3, 4).

AS a quiet and capable leader of his class, John not only shines in math as assistant instructor but also in other school activities. His work as football manager was well appreciated, while his familiar signature appears at the bottom of every decision the Council makes. He has well organized his studies and seems to have a proper place for everything including a bit of time each night for a social chat ????

We are sorry to see John leave the Hill but we know that with his ability, the diploma he receives will point to nothing other than success. He has served his term here in a faithful way and will ably represent his Alma Mater.

"Profoundly skilled in analytic
He could distinguish and divide."

GLADYS CLAUSS

Blandburg, Pa.

Reade High School

"Glady"

Home Economics; Tapitawe Club (2, 3, 4); Y. W. C. A. (4); Class Secretary (3, 4); Home Economics Club (1, 2, 3, 4), Secretary (1), Treasurer (2), Vice President (3).

AUBURN hair and a winning smile characterizes this dainty Home Economics student. The cheerful efficiency she has displayed as class scribe is a factor in her other activities, especially in Y. W. work—where her willingness to help has been of great value.

In her own department she is reported to be a paragon of domestic virtue, almost unsurpassable in the kitchen and well able to manage a household. She has been a very competent nurse to our youngest co-ed, Clara Mae.

Although her quiet reserve has rather restricted her circle of intimate friends, those who know "Gladdy" treasure her for the sincerity of her friendship. We wish her success in the teaching career she anticipates.

"A life that leads melodious days."

ALDEN O. HOLSINGER

Elmira, N. Y.

Elmira Free Academy

"Holsie" "Oboe"

Science; Class Vice President (2); Class Treasurer (3, 4); "J" Club (1, 2, 3, 4), President (4); Student Representative on Athletic Council (4); Football (1, 2, 3, 4); Basketball (1, 2, 3, 4), Captain (3, 4); Track (1, 2, 3, 4), Captain (2, 3, 4).

"OBOE" shines in his field, namely athletics. Whether it is on the gridiron, on the track or on the court, he may be found striving his best to give victory to his Alma Mater. The classroom is another field for the prowess of "Holsie" and he manages to pivot through them all successfully.

Besides holding an important place in athletics, "Holsie" finds time to care for the finances of his class and, for two consecutive years, he has filled the place faithfully.

His activities are many and week-ends are always filled, for this big boy is in demand.

We might add that Willard beat Johnson but we know of one "Johnson" that didn't lose. Good luck to you, "Oboe".

"Whate'er he did was done with so much ease."

WILFRED N. STAUFER

Pottstown, Pa.

Spring City High School

"Staufer" "Will"

Arts; Volunteer Group (1, 2, 4), Treasurer (2); Social Science Club (1, 2); Press Club (2); Class Vice President (4); Ministerium (4); Classical Club (4); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (4); Tapitawe Club (4), President (4); Senior Invitation Committee (4).

WILFRED stayed away from Juniata for a while but decided that he had to graduate from it. He has been a familiar figure on the campus during the summer sessions. Last fall when he came to school, he was held in such esteem that the class voted him the second highest place in it.

The week-ends find him away from the Hill on missions of good will. Beneath all of his austerity there is a subtle sense of humor.

Quite quiet, except at times when he remarks wittily, Wilfred has made friends. Among them he numbers a certain special one. We hardly may disclose it but you know what we mean.

"A quiet, thoughtful mien."

EMMA MALINDA ACKER

Martinsburg, Pa.

Morrison Cove Vocational School

"M. E."

Arts; Y. W. C. A. (2, 4); Hiking Club (2); Volunteer Group (4); Social Science Club (2).

MATH is Emma's strong point. She never comes to a class unprepared. She snickers at the toughest calculus and presto!—there's the answer! Is such brilliance an acquired characteristic or was she born that way? The answer is that she works thoroughly and conscientiously, since her program does not include wasting time. Her chief interest lies along educational lines, as she is preparing for an even more brilliant career as teacher than the one she has already had. If we may predict her future from her past record as a "marm," lucky is the school that secures her services.

"Begone, dull care!
Thou and I shall never agree"

E. EUGENE APEL

Ebensburg, Pa.

Ebensburg High School

"Wid" "Joe" "Pittle"

Commerce and Finance; Track (1, 2, 3, 4); "J" Club (1, 2, 3, 4), Vice President (4); Tribunal (4), Vice President.

FAIR readers, this is our own "Wid" who hails from one of the highest towns in Pennsylvania. He has brought his good will and happy-go-lucky manner to Juniata and has fitted in well.

On the cinders he has met very few that could outdistance him and we expect him to keep up this winning form for future races in life.

"Scura" spends a lot of his time downtown and if you knew where he goes you'd agree that he has a pretty good reason.

Taking a business course, "Pittle" expects to follow in his father's footsteps and become a successful business man.

"Wid" is a familiar figure on our campus and merrily goes his way humming and whistling "True Blue Lou."

"A plain, outspoken personage."

ELIZABETH AUGHEY

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

Science; Chemical Colloquium (3, 4); Women's Day Student Association (3, 4), Secretary-Treasurer (3), President (4).

ELIZABETH, a native of Huntingdon, a girl who can change courses when she pleases and remain a good student, is one to be envied.

Books and more books are "Betty's" hobby—the result of her studious nature.

Quiet, unassuming though she is, there is a little imp of mischief that jumps out of her every once in a while, giving her friends a glimpse of her sunny self.

Our only regret is that, since she is a day student, we have not had the opportunity to know her better. However we should not miss the chance to compliment her on her ability as a chemist. In other sciences, math or physics, she is equally gifted.

"A student, well informed."

CLIFFORD E. BAGLEY

Altoona, Pa.

Altoona High School

"Skeets"

Science; Day Student Association, Vice President; Chemical Colloquium (3, 4).

THIS curious specimen from the smoke-clouded town of Altoona came to Juniata College because it was nearest his abode. A more authoritative and efficient vice president of that motley herd known as commuters could not be found anywhere.

"Skeets" can often be seen working diligently in the laboratory, for his aspiration is to become a chemist, and we know he will succeed. He is a member of N. J.'s tid bits of humanity and a first class test tube juggler.

What the future holds for Clifford Edward is unknown, but his friends will rest assured he will come out on top with the same beatific visage that has marked his existence here.

"Come what will come
And I am satisfied."

PAULINE BAUGHMAN

Somerset, Pa.

Somerset High School

"Polly"

Education; Women's Student Council (1); Junior-Senior Court (4); Press Club (1, 2, 3, 4), Secretary (4); Juniatian Staff (3, 4); Alpha Club (1, 2, 3, 4).

JUST another argument for Somerset County! Studious, frank, capable, "Polly" is a person who does things; such things as look cheerful when she tells you "Sorry that book is out"; things like writing editorials or feature articles and being modest about them; getting through a college course in three years and being modest about it.

Did you know that she taught school? Ask her about her past. No doubt it is interesting. Gentlemen prefer blondes and "Polly" is one of those preferred.

The many to whom "Polly" has given a valued friendship wish her success in the career she chooses, be it teaching, journalism or any other position suiting her capabilities.

"She blushes; all is safe."

MADELINE RUTH BELL

Mahaffey, Pa.

Mahaffey High School

"Bell"

Arts; Freshman Club (1); Orchestra (2, 3, 4); Interclass Athletics (2, 3, 4); Hiking Club (2, 3, 4), Manager (3); Women's "J" Club (4), Secretary-Treasurer (4); Junior-Senior Court (4), Vice President (4).

"ONE friend in a thousand" is Madeline, for she possesses just such characteristics as make her worthwhile. She is a real nature lover, too, as is readily shown by her hobbies.

Summer vacations bring out a double personality when she throws off her student's cloak and becomes "the keeper of the bees" and a pal to her brothers on fishing trips. While at school she spends her leisure time in taking long walks, winning her "J" or snapping pictures.

We envy her ability to get her work done immediately and then to enjoy herself while others must fret and worry over last minute preparations. All in all, she is liked by everyone, for she has the enviable quality of refraining from saying the wrong thing at the right time or the right thing at the wrong time.

"Her eyes express
The sweetest kind of bashfulness."

ROBERT BEATTY

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

"Bob"

Science; Chemical Colloquium (3, 4); Freshmen Club.

A FEW select Juniatians with higher mathematical minds have a fascinating way of dashing about the campus with preoccupied looks and with leather-encased slide rules lolling about precariously in hip-pockets. Beatty is a member of this peculiar and yet superb fraternity. How to account for his tastes, with which the Saturday Evening Post and the Judge agree, is a problem. Incidentally his philosophy is so original that he says that he couldn't find any doctrines set forth in Brightman that even came near being similar to his own. Maybe the intimacy with the elements and similar doo-dads, as studied in the various courses in chemistry that "Bob" has taken, have given him a greater and deeper insight into the great facts of the universe. In addition to a scientific turn of mind, this gentleman possesses a faculty for wit that enables him to burst forth unexpectedly with a pleasant "Heh! Heh!" To look at him you wouldn't expect the combinations found in "Beatty" but, somehow, they are there and what a result. Uh Huh!

FLORENCE BENSON

Hollsopple, Pa.

Ferndale High School

"Bennie"

Education; Y. W. C. A. (4); Volunteer Group (4); California State Teachers' College (1, 2, 3).

FLORENCE'S major sport seems to be to work and then, for recreation, just another dash of work. But she thrives on it and her scholastic record indicates that it is worth while. For the past few years she has been teaching and, according to all reports, she has proved very efficient in her chosen field, as one would expect her to be. However, she still finds time to throw a friendly smile to all and to entertain her own circle of pals. She is somewhat reserved and so the most of us have been unable to know her as well as we would like to. We wish her all success.

"There is no royal road to learning."

GALEN R. BLOUGH

Bellwood, Pa.

Juniata Academy
Arts.

SERIOUSNESS is the only word that can describe this gentleman, who comes to Juniata from a town on the main line called, for some reason or other, Bellwood.

Galen is one of the few remaining students who went to the Juniata Academy, that institution that is now a thing of the dim past. As pastor of the Bellwood Church of the Brethren, we feel sure that a more capable man for the task would be hard to find.

In his quiet, unobtrusive manner that portrays both sincerity and conscientiousness he has won a place in the life of the campus. He goes forth from his Alma Mater with her blessing and the good will of the class of '30.

"There Studious let me sit."

EDWARD C. BOMM

Westwood, N. J.

National Bible Institute, N. Y. C.
"Ed" "Eddy"

Education; Ministerium (2, 3, 4); Volunteer Group (2, 3, 4).

A MARRIED man is "Eddy." He has managed to get a college education and keep a home, a worthy combination. Some can't get or keep either. Coming from New Jersey, "Ed" has strived hard in attaining a degree. He preaches on Sundays and has much extra-curricular work, yet manages to keep up in his studies.

As long as this gentleman has been on College Hill, he hasn't had anything but a good word for everyone. You may expect a hearty "hello" from him every time he passes. With his brief case, "Ed" has become a familiar figure. If he puts as much energy into his future work as he does in his work at J. C. we can feel sure of him in any line he follows.

"Despise school and remain a fool."

ERWIN S. BRADLEY

Broad Top, Pa.

Dudley High School

"Brad"

Education; Shippensburg (1, 2); Orchestra (3).

THIS young man from Broad Top is broad at the top to be sure, which accounts for the fact that he is proficient on trumpet, French horn, and piano. Yet he does not make this his major. Rather, Erwin marshalls his best in the profound subjects, such as calculus and philosophy, which he pursues with alacrity. Seniorship has not made him gray without, and he shows that he is master of a situation, a thing that comes only after siege of assiduous endeavor. Wholesome fun is readily appreciated by "Brad" and you may find that anything that he enters into promises a good laugh.

ROY BRADY

Decatur, Ill.

Decatur High School

"Reverend"

Arts; Ministerium (4), Secretary (4); Tapitawe Club (4); Volunteer Group (4); Basketball (4); Mt. Morris College (1, 2, 3).

ROY, coming from Mt. Morris, has found Juniata much to his liking. Friendships have been made and increased with time. He has the distinction of living the farthest away from the Hill. Every week-end finds him at Bolivar teaching the gospel.

Due to his steadfastness he has been chosen by the Council to administer the rule on Fourth Founders. His success is evident.

This boy is often seen on the basketball court and, although big, he is fast. He is rather sedate and manages to keep a good front despite everything.

We predict a fruitful future for this young gentleman.

"Beauties in vain their pretty eyes may roll."

THOMAS R. BRIGGS

Altoona, Pa.

Altoona High School

"Tom"

Science.

ONE rarely seen when idle and one always found to be the willing doer of the humblest task; this is "Tom." He is not bothered with that germ called "talkativeness" for he lets his actions speak. Actions, we know, often speak louder than words. He is more than generous and possesses a very amiable disposition.

"Tom" is one of the "communion" students who comes every morning on the "choo choo" from Altoona. If he takes his life's work as conscientiously as his making the train in the morning, there is no doubt that he will go far. In closing we sincerely say:

"A happy future is our wish for you,
And great success in everything you do."

ALICE P. BROWN

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

Arts; Classical Club (4).

ALICE is not a dancing, flippant flapper, neither is she an old-fashioned girl. She is wholly practical. Nothing suggestive of idleness or laziness can mar her efficiency as a diligent, deliberate worker. To watch her "bookworm" her way through the most ponderous volumes in the library is inspiring and stimulating. Alice spends her excess energy in taking credit courses and has rolled up heaps of hours. Occasionally she teaches to release a portion of her stored knowledge. Alice, who believes in a well rounded existence, takes her "Daily Dozen" by dashing after escaping "Toonerville." We wonder, as the street car disappears, does her scholarly mind repeat Burrough's "Waiting?"

"Charm wins the sight
But merit wins the soul."

T. WILSON CAHALL

Ridgely, Md.

Ridgely High School

"Kay"

Education; Blue Ridge College (1, 2, 3).

AHA! a lad from the south! By the south we mean below the Mason-Dixon line. Maryland! the home of tomatoes, sweet peas and pumpkins! Wilson carries this spirit of southern gayety about him!

Better known as "Ki Yi," T. has contributed much to the social life at J. C. Every Sunday afternoon one "may" see him perambulating around his favorite streets.

Blue Ridge College where he was last year held no charm for him and consequently he sought greater fields to conquer.

His humorous side is hard to keep down and his deep ha! ha! is contagious when heard. He seems to revel in humorous situations and helps make the third floor cheerful.

"His copious stories, oftentimes begun,
End without audience and are never done."

VERNON W. CAMPBELL

Johnstown, Pa.

Johnstown High School

"Hump"

Science; Masquers (2, 3, 4); Orchestra (2, 3); Chemical Colloquium (2, 3, 4); Radio Club (2, 3, 4).

PAUSE here, ladies and gentlemen, and note the innocent and benevolent expression on the face of this versatile young man. Of course, it is fashionable, when one desires to praise anonymously a public character, to reflect his traits and accomplishments in an impersonal manner. However, we fear we must be a bit personal for just a moment in order that the fair sex will not be disillusioned upon meeting him. He is not the least bit sympathetic to anyone except music teachers.

"Hump," with natural ability combined with lots of energy, has already made quite a name for himself, and we may justly predict that his future will be most profitable and pleasant.

"He is wit's peddler."

ALBERT R. CORMAN

Windber, Pa.

Windber High School

"Al"

Arts; Debate (2, 3, 4), Captain (4); Press Club (2, 3, 4), President (4); Track (1, 2, 3, 4); Juniatian Staff (3, 4); Tapitawe Club (3, 4).

BEHOLD the man who came to Juniata with the firm conviction of remaining a bachelor! But a college education has led him to see the error of his ways so that it was only natural that he should fall for a "Wink." When "Al" is not studying he is either annoying Prof. Bixler with the radio, in a home not ninety-seven miles from the college, or on a ramble to Fulton County.

"Al" is the type of college student who knows how to handle well his extra curricular activities without neglecting his studies. As captain of the debating team, president of the Press Association and associate editor of the Juniatian, this gallant young lad has always discharged his duties well. When it comes to athletics one could not think of a track meet without "Al." If he runs the race of life with the same determination as he runs the mile, we are sure of his success.

"Education makes the man."

GRACE COX

Altoona, Pa.

Juniata High School

"Coxie"

Arts.

"JOLLY and full of pep" describes this one of our commuters to a "T." A flash of golden hair, the bright twingle of mischievous eyes, a happy smile turning into a merry laugh and a wisp of a girl is on the scene.

A typical co-ed, independent, a lover of sport and good times but not averse to serious thought and work when occasion arises; that's "Coxie."

Her particular job after graduation may be teaching and it may not. But in either case her many friends wish her "Bonne Chance et Bon Voyage."

HOMER DELL

Mapleton Depot, Pa.
Indiana Normal
Arts.

THIS man is known here at the "U" as a day student and each day finds him on the campus bright and early and ready to begin his work. He is rather quiet, apparently believing that people should be seen and not heard. But when he does speak he has something to say. He is a good student and ready when called upon.

Homer has a smile and a cheerful word for all whom he meets. This attitude of life will aid him greatly in the pursuance of his chosen profession.

"Arise with the larks
But avoid larks in the morning."

GRACE ELVA DICK

Clymer, Pa.
Clymer High School
"Dickie"
Education.

GRACE decided to get her degree with the class of '30, so after several years of successful teaching experience we find her in our midst again. Hers is a sunny disposition, willing and capable to lend a hand and be a real friend to those about her. She is a diligent student, no math problem being too difficult for her. We know that her chosen profession, teaching, will be the better for having her among its number because her previous record is a testimony.

We agree in saying that the Juniata family would not have been complete without Grace.

"In her alone 'twas natural to please."

CAROLINE DIDDEN

Hatfield, Pa.

Hatfield High School

"Carol D"

Arts; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (2, 3, 4), President (4); Volunteer Cabinet (2, 3, 4), President (3); Tapitawe Club (4).

SOLITAIRE! "Carol D" likes the kind that is set in a circle of white gold. She is the other half of a real Juniata couple (nothing like holding up the old traditions) with this difference. This time, the president of the Y. W. unites with the president of the Y. M. officially and otherwise. We wonder if they have established another precedent.

Caroline has been an "in again, out again" sort of student; sometimes in the dorms and sometimes out. She's always the student except when her hall needs a hearty laugh—at which time "Carol D" turns clown and is more laugh-provoking than the white-faced professional.

Our highest tribute to this friend with the big heart is to recognize her splendid work in the Y. W. She is wholly sincere!

"She was the Sunday of his life."

JOHN D. GROVE, JR.

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

"Grovie" "Johnny"

Commerce and Finance; Tapitawe Club (3, 4), President (4).

TOO few of us have really learned to know and appreciate this fellow with the laughing eyes and curly hair from down town. But those of us who have been fortunate to pass pleasant hours with him know "Johnny" as a good pal and a true friend. John makes his way from his home to the class room each day in his usual quiet way, always prepared to give a satisfactory recitation. The Commerce and Finance Department will send another Juniatian into the business world in June, ready to assume the responsibilities of life.

His closest contacts on the Hill have been with the members of his favored Tapitawe Tribe, and during the first semester he served very successfully as the president of that social organization.

"Not in the roll of common men."

WILLIAM GUISLER

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

"Wid"

Commerce and Finance; ALFARATA Staff (3); Alpha Club (3, 4), President (4); Band (3, 4).

"WID" we all call him, even in class. He holds down the highest rating in the C & F course and we think he surely deserves it for he studies methodically and diligently. He is president of the leading social club on the campus, the Alphas. He has other outside social activities that claim his experienced attention. We like "Wid" and we'll miss him about school; a studious fellow and a good student full of more ideals than one would expect of such a practical man.

At the rate he is traveling, his Alma Mater will be proud of her son and the success which he deserves.

"His crown is called content."

BARBARA P. HANAWALT

Lewistown, Pa.

Lewistown High School

"Babs"

Arts; Vice President Class (1); Alpha Club (1, 2, 3, 4), President (2); Orchestra (1, 2, 3); Press Association (2, 3, 4), Secretary (3); Dramatics Club (3, 4); Junior-Senior Court (3, 4), Secretary (3), Vice President (4); Juniatian Staff (3, 4); Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (3, 4).

MERRY brown eyes to match the "fetchin" hair and a jolly smile spell "Babs," one girl who deserves to be called a co-ed. At least, she has all the desirable attributes of that illusive college ideal, including a way with masculine hearts that quite appalls us less favored mortals.

"Babs" has roses on every possible occasion and they don't come from her best girl friend. How does she do it?

But, there is a serious side, too, or at least we suspect the mottoes, which tell of all sorts of resolutions to work, perch about her room for more than decorative purposes.

Extra-curricular activities come in for their share. Committees are not complete without her help and her activity card was so full this year that Barbara had to slash them wholesale or be a nervous wreck. We are glad she chose the former for she has remained a good sport—and her clever posters still remind us of what she can do.

"Where laughter goes dancing in and out."

ALMEDA M. HANNAHS

Addison, N. Y.

Addison High School

"Al"

Arts; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet (4); Volunteer Group (3, 4), Secretary (4); Hiking Club (4); French Club (2, 3, 4), Secretary (2); Women's Student Council (4).

ALMEDA came all the way from New York to join the Juniata family. She is a member of whom we may justly be proud. She has displayed her abilities as a sincere worker not only in the Y. W. C. A., Volunteer Group and Student Council but also in athletics. Anyone who witnessed the hockey game Home-coming Day will agree that she was a star. And ask her about this "Wild West" tribe of which she is secretary. Speaking of extra-curricular interests, the freshman class has donated a new one—a "girl" friend for Almeda.

A typical Juniatian, sincere, kind, helpful, and jolly. We all wish her the best o' luck.

"We live in deeds, not years."

ESTHER S. HARLEY

Royersford, Pa.

Royersford High School

Arts; Y. W. C. A. (1, 2, 3, 4), Cabinet (3, 4); Senior-Junior Court (4), President (4); Volunteer Group (1, 2, 3, 4); Glee Club (3, 4); Tapitawe Club (3, 4).

TO describe Esther adequately, we must give away a few of her secret pastimes. Ask her where she learned all the unique gymnastic stunts with which Third Brumbaugh is frequently entertained. And on occasions we are all in on a party where her jokes just pop out one after the other. Two sly dimples and a jolly giggle here and there; that's Esther.

As hall president, Esther has been quite efficient. She is a friend to all and a friend indeed. She always has a minute to help one out of a difficulty. After once assigning her a duty, one may rest assured that Esther will do it and do it well. She's that kind of a person, which is fortunate for the rest of us.

"In each cheek appears a pretty dimple."

LOIS J. HARNER

New Alexandria, Pa.

Greensburg High School

"Loey"

Arts; French Club (2, 3, 4); Senior-Junior Court (4); Debate (4).

FOR her first three years we came to know Lois as a day student, but this year she decided to give us the chance of really knowing her.

First of all she impresses us with her studiousness. The time she religiously spends on her lessons and the marks that result are clear proof. And speaking of proof, we are reminded that she has also impressed us in the line of debate, with lots of success there.

And then we get to know her as a real friend. Yes, she studies a lot but we've never known her to be too busy to listen to our tale of woe, to cheer us up with sympathy and then giggle, and then to take us to "Skips" for her favorite "coke."

We aren't just sure yet whether her most interesting mail comes from the east or west, but we do know the reason for her becoming such an ardent radio fan at Juniata.

"May the hinges of friendship
"Never grow rusty."

MARIAN HARTMAN

Mifflintown, Pa.

Birmingham School for Girls

"Bun"

Arts; Orchestra (1, 2, 3, 4); Sigma Delta Club (3, 4), Vice President (3).

"BUN" is small, but that in no way keeps her from making a host of friends. Her big, twinkling eyes take you right in and make you "one of us." She fiddles her way through orchestral concerts and takes an important part in council affairs. Perhaps "Bun" could help Anita Loos on a new success, "Why Maidens Prefer Blue Eyes."

During her four years at J. C., she has become a part of it and we will all miss her when she leaves this spring. We may go to the walls of Second Brumbaugh for some of her secret whispering but they will tell no tales. Even the divans of the social room are her friends. Lady Fortune whispers a hint of happiness and joy for "Bun's" future.

"She has two eyes, so soft and blue.
Take care!"

H. HAROLD HARTZLER

Bellville, Pa.

Bellville High School

"Curly"

Arts; Debate (2, 3, 4); Track (2, 3, 4); Press Club (3, 4); Tapitawe Club (3, 4); Physics Assistant (3, 4); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (4); Volunteer Cabinet (3, 4).

A MOP of stubborn brown hair above a friendly pair of eyes gave "Curly" his nick-name soon after his arrival from Big Valley. Although he has forged far ahead of most of us in the pursuit of higher education, he has always been ready to spare a few moments to help those less fortunate. His talent, however, has not been confined to the formal art of delving into text books. It has found expression in debate, in the volunteer group, and in the Physics Department as a capable assistant.

The enforced aloofness due to three years of furnace-firing for the orphans has not hurt his popularity with his class mates and, perhaps, it has given him an advantage with the inmates behind the double doors.

"You hear that boy laughing?"

JESSE WM. HEISTER

Mattawanna, Pa.

Lewistown High School

Education; English Club (1); Debate (2, 3); Class Treasurer (3); Student Council (3); Tapitawe Club (4).

JESSE is a student of the students. Imperfect vision caused him to drop out of the ranks of Juniatians for a year, but he is back again, hard at it. His headquarters are the day students' room and the library. Earnestness, accuracy, consideration, which have marked his debating career, are the characteristics which Heister will carry with him into his chosen profession, that of teaching. Those who know this student, like him, and point to him as a worthy example of industry. Let us hope that he may see his way through to the pinnacle of success.

"Exceeding wise, fair spoken and persuasive."

FLORENCE HESS

Philipsburg, Pa.

Philipsburg High School

"Flossie"

Arts; Debate, Captain (4); Masquers (4); Tapitawe Club (4).

TWO merry, twinkling brown eyes, soft strands of chestnut brown hair, and a wisp of a skirt and you have "Flossie." If you look closely you can see her. It is not so difficult to hear her and just as easy to catch a smile on her lips. Being a cheery good friend to everyone seems to be her aim and there are many who know that she is accomplishing it.

"Flossie" is a good little news-story writer. The line between her and the "little bird that knows everything" must always be busy. In the middle of the night you may hear steps in the hall and it is probably "Flossie" just returning after a good "round-up." She is not preserved or mummified but she is "well-saved" and the Hill is going to miss her cheery smile.

"A brisk little somebody."

CHARLES R. HETRICK

Bellwood, Pa.

Bellwood High School

"Het"

Science.

"HALF the women in the dormitories are hoping and praying that some gallant young man will ask them for a date," says Charles. So he doesn't believe they should be given a "break" because they're too anxious. Quiet, that's his telephone exchange. He's just quiet and can't help it. We can't all be loud, so, why shouldn't we have at least one silent man on the campus?

"Het" knows his place and stays there—and what a dialect he uses! "What for gal you taking out tonight?" he was quoted as saying. At least, he's interested in the girls. When it comes to good common sense, "Het" is a credit to Juniata. He knows his eats, too! Quite uncommon for a boy, eh what? No, he's not a mere boy. Why just think! He'll have his goatskin in June!

"Be silent that you may hear."

ELIZABETH HILLIER

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

"Libby"

Home Economics; Social Club (2, 3, 4); Tapitawe Club (3, 4); Professional Club (1, 2, 3, 4).

WHEN a light, but decisive tap of heels is heard along the corridor leading to the Day Student Room you know that "Betty" has arrived. No matter how much of a hurry she is in, this person has a cheery "Hello!" for everyone. Now just along what lines does "Betty's" interest and talent lie? In school is isn't hard to determine. Anyone who has eaten any of her creations of the baking art will vouch for her ability. As to her outside interests? Well, that's the other half of the story.

All in all, Betty is a girl who makes a good pal, a kind and sympathetic friend, and a jolly chum.

"A heart as true as steel."

N. GRANT HIXSON

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

Science.

EVERYONE has some outstanding characteristic and we are glad to say that Grant's is "good naturedness." Armed with witty remarks he has easily crossed the threshold of amiability and taken possession of the house of personality. To know him is to realize that this is not idle talk for it is every bit as much in evidence as he himself.

Grant has the dire misfortune to be a day student, so very little is known of his life away from the Hill. However, jealous as it may seem, we are sorry that "Hix" will not be with us again next year as his company was and always will be eagerly desired by all of his friends.

"He does well, acts nobly."

MARY LAURENE HOGG

Glen Cove, N. Y.

Glen Cove High School

"Mazie"

Arts; Press Club (1, 2, 3, 4), Personals Editor (3); Alpha Club (2, 3, 4); French Club (2, 3); Y. W. C. A. (1, 2, 3, 4), Treasurer (3), Vice President (4); Women's Student Council (3, 4), President (4).

GORGEOUS hair! The color of pure gold—and a smile that wins its way into our hearts! Her voice is gentle, and soft, and low. "Mazie" is decidedly a real personality. She believes in the goodness of human nature and meets everyone accordingly. The Y. W. has found her invaluable and her senior year placed her at the head of co-ed discipline. It is a real tribute to our quiet president that things have run smoothly and pleasantly under her hand.

But—the story is only half told. "May," too, believes in air castles in Spain and romantic songs after eleven o'clock. The reason? Just another responsibility to make, oddly enough, this demure lass happily frivolous.

"The heart reads aright its destiny."

ANNA M. HOLSINGER

Roaring Spring, Pa.

Roaring Spring High School

"Mickey"

Music; Glee Club (2, 3, 4), Quartette (4); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (2); Class Secretary (1, 2); Orchestra (1, 2); Masquers (3, 4).

"MICKEY" might have stepped out of a fairy story to come to us. Sometimes we suspect that she did and that the prince came with her as she danced into our hearts. Presto! Just like that!

Now that she is here, we shall feel the loss when she is gone. She is loved by all because, dainty and charming and talented as she is, "Mickey" remains so unassuming and so delightfully unspoiled that we somehow look on her as the "little sister" of the whole Juniata family.

When "Mickey" plays, the keys of the piano weave stories; when "Mickey" sings, we ask for more; but when "Mickey" dances, gayly and gracefully, she portrays herself in such a way that says "it" all.

"A foot more light, a step more true
Ne'er from the heath flower dashed the dew."

WILLIAM A. HOWE

Maitland, Pa.

Lewistown High School

"Bill" "Red"

Science; Assistant in Chemistry Department (1, 2, 3, 4); Alpha Club (2, 3, 4); Chemical Colloquium (3, 4); Masquers (3, 4), Business Manager (3), Stage Manager (3); Tribunal (4).

WE take great pleasure in introducing to you Mr. Howe. Nature gives us all a certain degree of self-confidence and "Red" has his share. Whether it's in a "bull session" or in the class room, this rusty-headed fellow says his piece and sticks to it! An' Howe! Regardless of the state of affairs, this fellow is cool and collected.

"Bill" is one of the guardians of the Frosh and when he is around, you can be sure, the first year men go easy.

"Red" has an enviable "rep" as a chemist but that is only one of his many inclinations. He finds time for an occasional stroll with a certain party and we are pretty sure that it is a good "Mann's Choice." Au revoir to you, "Bill."

"He that leaps the wide gulf
Should prevail in his suit."

ROBERT C. HOWER

Mount Union, Pa.

Mount Union High School

"Bob"

Science.

FROM the snow-capped peaks of Alaska to the sun-kissed shores of the Mediterranean, no greater joy can be found than in Mount Union, the home of "Bob."

Coming from Mount Union, naturally makes "Bob" a member of the "communion" students, and from all reports he is one of the wits of their club room. In the field of science he has washed beakers and tested for starch with those other rare humans, familiarly known as scientists.

Upon reading the conclusions that "Bob" has reached at the close of his four years of college, we are sure, dear reader, that you will agree with us that the world is about to benefit by one more helping hand, which is one of the finest qualities any man can contribute to his community.

"A friend is never known
Till a man have need."

BERNARD N. KING

Ridgely, Md.

Ridgely High School

"Bernie"

Science; Blue Ridge College (1); Cast of "The Goose Hangs High" (2); Glee Club (2, 3, 4); Volunteer Group (2, 3, 4), President (4); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (3, 4); Alpha Club (2); Tapitawe Club (4); Indian Staff, Advertising Manager (4).

"BERNIE" comes from the Eastern Shore, a place which gets along without him and surprisingly well with him. We couldn't understand why it's called the garden spot of the world before we knew "Bernie"—now we've decided it must be irony. But this fellow really has been a big addition to the Juniata family (he's almost plump, you know. ) His melodious chortle has helped make the Glee Club what it is today. As an Associate Editor of the Juniatian he's made quite a hit. As secretary of the Sunday School he performed his duties efficiently and as far as we know the accounts are O. K.

But we'll quit kidding you about "Bernie." He really is a fine person who's done much for Juniata. We appreciate his services and wish him good luck.

"Every man has his merit

ELMER KECK

Riddlesburg, Pa.

Ashland Academy

Education.

JUNIATA must seem to be a quiet place for a man to spend his days. Anyhow, Elmer spent his wild, youthful days in Ashland College. After a dash of carefree, happy-go-lucky living in a high or low manner he brought about a coalition of powers with a member of the gentler sex.

Whether this fair one picked J. C. or not, we haven't decided since the privilege of meeting her has been denied.

In his teaching experience, Elmer served as a fairly good "chap" to a load of prospective teachers who were young enough to need watching. But ah!! Scandal!! When it was time to go home, Elmer was missing on several occasions. Just an absent minded lapse, of course.

"Here's to the chaperones

MARY LOUISE KOONS

Hagerstown, Md.

Hagerstown High School

"Koonie"

Science; Marietta College (1); Y. W. C. A. (1, 2, 3, 4); Volunteer Group (2, 3, 4); Hiking Club (4).

THE class of '30 gained a loyal member when Mary Louise came from Marietta College. During the three years she has been at Juniata, "Koonie" has demonstrated that she is not afraid to work. She has been secretary to the Alumni and Field Secretary and at the same time has carried a full program of studies.

Mary Louise is one of the familiar figures that takes up cards after chapel. Also, this young lady knows all the marks before the periodical notices come out. Her friends predict for her a successful career as teacher of mathematics and English. Perhaps it may be short. Who knows?

"Great things through Greatest hazards are achieved."

HELEN K. KREIDER

Palmyra, Pa.

Palmyra High School

"Dutchy"

Arts; Glee Club (2, 3, 4); Y. W. C. A. (2, 3, 4), Secretary (3); Student Council (3, 4); Alpha Club (2, 3, 4), Secretary (3); Volunteer Cabinet (3); Basketball (1).

EFFICIENT, interesting, and lovable, is "Dutchy." Along with her regular college work, she has a prominent place in extra-curricular activities, always entering into them with enthusiasm. Being busy, however, never keeps her from saying a cheery "Hello" or giving a pleasant smile to everyone she meets. She's always willing to lend a helping hand and seldom fails to drive away the "blues." Dame Rumor gives us a hint that she is interested in a tall and handsome blond far away but Helen never says much about her private affairs. Her host of friends predict for her a great future.

BEATRICE KRUG

McConnellsburg, Pa.

McConnellsburg High School

"Bee"

Arts.

PHYSICALLY, "Bee" may be a pygmy, but her love of fun is colossal. Whenever there is any mischief afoot you may be sure "Bee" is either the instigator of it or an active participant. One of her favorite pastimes is to "make up" as Shylock or some other character equally in keeping with her minimum of size and maximum of dignity. Thus attired, "Bee" socially calls on her friends. That the traditional quiet of study is broken is not "Bee's" fault, but is merely a tribute to her histrionic gifts. Her wholesome jollity may win her friends, but it is the deeper, more serious side of her unusual personality that holds them. One may be proud to be a friend of this connoiseeur of human nature.

"A mighty spirit fills that little frame."

CYRUS B. LEWIS

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

"Cy"

Arts.

QUIET chap but oh, boy! Four years ago, having completed his education in his home town, Huntingdon, we find "Cy" with his desire for knowledge among the sons of Juniata.

Having taught a little school, he decided to become a finished teacher so he aimed at an A.B. degree. He has been a good student and accordingly his ambition has been realized. His aim now is to show to the world his qualities as a teacher.

Aside from his work in college, "Cy's" pleasing personality has won for him many friends. You know, ladies and gentlemen, he has a lead on the rest of his friends and here's why. He has found the only woman in the world for him. Lucky, eh what!

"How art thou typified."

WAYNE LIGHT

Lebanon Valley, Pa.

Lebanon Valley High School

"Lebanon Walley"

Arts.

THE "pride of Lebanon Walley" where the sauer kraut grows four feet high! After spending three years at Lebanon Valley, he decided to spend his last year in college, so he came to Juniata.

His attendance at summer school well-fitted him for the pursuit of an elusive degree which, to date, is still elusive. Upon his entrance to Juniata, he was initiated into the organization sponsored by the notorious first floor of the New Dorm, which initiation centered around Room 103.

Light, with his sunny smile and "walley" humor, soon became well-known about the campus; especially so for the diary which he kept for the general usage of the hall.

"A joke's a very serious thing."

BERYL M. LINN

Mount Union, Pa.

Mount Union High School

"Cherie"

Music: Glee Club (2, 3, 4); Masquers (2, 3, 4); Alpha Club (4); Junior Recital (3); Senior Recital (4).

"NO foolin'" is Beryl's favorite expression and it might be used after an extravagant eulogy on the charms of that glorious mass of auburn hair, on her voice and on those golden freckles which may be detected in the most tantalizing places. Only occasionally do sounds of riotous revelry issue from her room but, on those occasions, it is time for the hall president to appear on the scene of festivity and assume her most reproving look.

For two years Beryl commuted, then finally decided to join the other servers in the dormitory. Now, Brumbaugh is not complete without this charming, changeable girl. Variety of moods puts spice in Beryl's life, for she is never the same for five minutes at a time.

Here's luck to you, Beryl, and many hopes for the future. May they ring true.

"Her greatest charm is individuality."

VERA LINGENFELTER

Hollidaysburg, Pa.

Hollidaysburg High School

Science.

AFTER taking extension and summer school work, Vera decided to spend her last year in the dorms. Her chief scholastic interests are along scientific lines, such as advance courses in physics and mathematics. Her report card would seem to indicate a natural proficiency in these fields.

Athletics is another major interest that Vera participates in. In this she has had more than her share of injuries, spending a week in the local hospital through a fractured ankle.

The plucky spirit she displays has won her the respect and admiration of all. It is with real regret that we think of her coming graduation but we feel assured she will win out wherever she goes.

Science; Football (1, 2); Track (1, 2, 3, 4); Tribunal (3, 4); "J" Club (2, 3, 4).

AND now, ladies and gentlemen, you will give me your attention for we have come upon a very rare and almost extinct type of masculine being, the student.

"Will" isn't a spectacular fellow, doesn't go in much for the exciting things and is quite content to pursue the intricacies of higher mathematics while other men delight themselves with more alluring figures. But at that he goes around some. We have it from reliable sources that he once went to the movies. He admitted it, too, but added hastily, "Of course, I studied a little during the intermission."

"Bill" has three claims to fame: He can study longer at a stretch than anyone else; he is a distance runner of no mean ability; he has succeeded in evading the snares of all designing maidens so far as anybody knows. Anyone of these would number him among the exceptional characters of the class.

"Who relished a joke
And rejoiced in a pun."

JOHN McCAULEY

Alexandria, Pa.

Juniata Academy

Arts; "J" Club (2, 3, 4).

HERE'S one of the most likeable fellows at Juniata. Although visually handicapped, John is one of the best students and so enthusiastic over athletics at J. C. that he was voted an honorary member of the "J" Club. Always with his "sunnyside up," John has managed to gather around him an enviable host of friends.

There are few students whom John cannot tell by voice and very few who cannot recognize his merry "Hello there!" John and his cane are as familiar on the campus as I. H. and his dog. We will be sorry to see "Mac" go.

"A pal to the freshies and uppers too
A friend to me and a friend to you."

GLADYS E. MIKESELL

Waynesboro, Pa.

Waynesboro High School

"Glad"

Arts; ALFARATA Staff (3); Scout Staff (3); Juniatian (4); Debate (3, 4); Arts Club (4); Classical Club (4), President (4); French Club (2, 3); Press Club (4); Chairman Commencement Committee (4).

AN individual with a dual personality. "Glad." As she is known to the public, she is an efficient, capable person; a calm, usually victorious debater; a girl with sufficient brains to major in mathematics and pull such grades that we won't disclose them lest you think her a "greasy grind"—which she isn't. If there's any work to be done, be it Juniatian, Press Club or Library, "Glad" will do it and she never lets you down.

To her intimate friends, she displays another phase of her complex nature. She's likely to rap on your door at any time during the wee sma' hours and the ensuing bull session is much more entertaining than the movies—and much less expensive. It costs only kindness which means being tactful when "Glad" clutches your arm and fiercely demands, "Am I as fat as that?" It means making no facetious remarks about her dimpled chin, suggesting hot fudge sundaes at the proper moment and never even mentioning "shrimp." "Ugh!"

"Pleasingly plump!"

E. JANE MILLER

Athol, Mass.

Athol High School

"Bebe"

Arts; Associate Editor Juniatian (4); Arts Club (1, 2, 3, 4); X Club (3, 4); ALFARATA Staff (3); French Club (2, 3), President (2); Classical Club (4); Chairman Program Committee (4).

JANE joined our school after Massachusetts had exported some of her justly famous cod about four years ago. Juniata, you know, has to take what Providence or Athol sends. Once in a while we get as charming an example of the unspoiled generation as Jane, for she can be charming and she can be sarcastic. Usually she's both. A living proof that these two characteristics can be combined!

As for accomplishments, she swims and fences; she speaks French like a native—of Massachusetts; she can play the piano but usually doesn't; she dances well—a big help at Juniata.

The Juniatian has been the better for her snappy editorials and good work as news editor. All in all, she's quite a delightful person to know.

"I dare do all that may become a woman."

FRANK MONTEMARANO

Olyphant, Pa.

Olyphant High School

"Frankie" "Monte"

Arts; ALFARATA Staff (3); Advertising Manager of Scout (3); Press Club (3, 4), Vice President (4); Tribunal Vice President (4); Juniatian Staff (4), Advertising Manager (4); French Club (2, 3, 4); Masquers (4), Advertising Manager (4); Play Casts: ("Beau Brummel," "Sun-Up").

SOME people are born different and others spend most of their lives trying to be. Which of these classifications include "Monte" we aren't sure. Anyway he tries and is different. In spite of his lately developed or egotistic characteristics (take your choice) of confidence, we can't seem to forget a "Frankie" who, as a freshman, was so bashful that he would miss his meals rather than eat in the dining hall.

"Frankie's" position on the staffs of the major publications on the campus seem to indicate that one barber at least has a business head. But do you remember the time this "pride of Olyphant" called up a week late and wanted to know when school would start. However, he is a dependable, hard-working fellow who believes in living up to his name—Frank.

"A force of his own merit makes his way."

M. E. MORNINGSTAR

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

Arts; Y. W. C. A. (3, 4); Volunteers (3, 4).

EVELYN is another of our day-student classmates. She is a student in every sense of the word. Fully three-fourths of her time at J. C., we'd be willing to wager, has been spent in the library.

Once your friend, always your friend. She is faithful, conscientious, and thoughtful. Yet, she is not lacking in spirit and fun. We admire her aim in life—Social Service work.

Verily we have found a good student who has more than she knows, speaks less than she knows and learns a lot. Her true sincerity and depth of purpose make her a friend to be valued.

"There's beauty all around our paths."

MAYETTA MOUNTAIN

Altoona, Pa.

Juniata High School

"Smet"

Education; Y. W. C. A. (4).

WE welcomed this pleasant little miss into our class and she has found her place in the hearts of many Juniatians. She has a cheery smile and a pleasant word for everyone. She listens to the troubles of her friends but never complains of her own misfortunes. No task is too small to be left undone and she is willing to do all and even more than is required of her. Conscientious in her school work, she believes in the old adage that "if a thing is worth doing at all it is worth doing well."

"Smet" is not always serious for she has her share of fun and her many friends can testify as to her pranks. We all join in wishing her success in her chosen profession.

"Oh! what a tangled web we weave."

F. LEE MYERS

Bellwood, Pa.

Bellwood High School

Arts; Masquers (2, 3, 4), President (4); Glee Club (3, 4), Treasurer (3, 4); Chairman Reception Committee (4); Play Casts: ("Beau Brummel," "Mansions," "Sun-Up"); ALFARATA Staff (3).

LEE hails from Bellwood, from which place he commuted the first two years of his college career. For the past two years he has been living in the dorms. Throughout his four years at J. C., he has been getting the most out of college life. However, he has always held that pleasure should follow work.

Lee puts himself into all things he attempts to do. This accounts for his success in all lines of activity in which he participates. No doubt he is leaving Juniata with a well-rounded education. We can predict nothing but success for Lee in his future work which will, in all probability, be law after a few years of teaching.

"From whose lips persuasion flows."

LETITIA MYERS

Mt. Pleasant, Pa.

Hurst High School

"Tish"

Education; Y. W. C. A. (4); Arts Club (4); Social Science Club (1).

THIS is not the dynamic spinster of Mary Robert Reinhart's creation. Our "Tish," charming, quietly reserved, is quite the opposite. After a year's absence she has rejoined us and many are the anecdotes she tells about "filling the great empty spaces" or "my career as a teacher." Probably this experience gave the ability to keep Second Oneida quiet in her capacity as hall president.

Although of a studious inclination, she still finds time for the manipulation of paints and brush which prove her a worthy artist. She is also fond of good music, especially of vocal, as the glee club pin she wears would indicate. She seems to like bass voices. No doubt, there is a reason.

"A pretty face is a silent commendation."

MARGARET J. NELSON

Altoona, Pa.

Juniata High School

"Peg"

Arts; Y. W. C. A. (4).

"PEGGY JANE" with her laughing brown eyes and charming manner has won her way into the hearts of many and has stayed there. She is full of fun and is able to look on the bright side of things. Nevertheless, she has acquired the habit of blending studies and pleasure so skilfully that neither suffers at the expense of the other.

As a Freshman, "Peggy" began to entertain the day student girls by her "original activities." She has continued during her four years to be a fun-loving and fun-producing co-ed.

It is this fair lassie's plan to begin a teaching career at the completion of her college course unless a certain extra curricular interest interferes.

"Tall and stately she moves in the hall."

ZILLAH NEVILLE MARK

Pitman, N. J.

Swarthmore High School

"Zee"

Arts.

IN the midst of sandwiches, salads and sundaes, "Zee" is content and yet she keeps "that slim figure." Enviously the others watch her as she floats between Punch's, Fisher's and Mark's cafe. "Zee" is full of pep and an endless amount of energy, which keeps her on the go, smiling and having a merry time.

From the Xmas vacation, she returned all bubbling over with excitement and the waves in her hair fairly danced with the secret they held. Before long, whispers were traveling about and, finally, it was announced that "Zee" had been married at Xmas time. She had pulled a fast one over the crowd and though she is letting her hair grow—and successfully—she still has her "Bob" permanently.

"That caressing and exquisite grace."

MERVIN A. PENTZ

Denton, Md.

Caroline High School

"Pentz" "Merv"

Science; Track 1, 2, 3, 4); Football (2, 3, 4); "J" Club (1, 2, 3, 4); ALFARATA Circulation Manager (3); Student Council (3, 4), President (4); Sigma Delta Club (2, 3, 4).

A BLOND-HAIRED demon on the gridiron, a master mechanic at the radio, and the head of our Student Council all combine to make "Merv" a notable man on the campus. Offset with injuries which kept him from many of the games of the past season of football, he showed that traditional fight of a typical Southerner in the games in which he did participate.

Being well-versed in student government affairs, "Merv" was elected president of the Council this year. It was a responsible position and he showed capability by dealing out justice and good judgment to all. This year will be "Merv's" last in the high jump for J. C. Since his Freshman days he has been the peer of all our high jumpers. And lest we forget, he likes his sweet "Bun."

"Two are better than one."

WILLIAM C. PHILLIPS

Williamsport, Pa.

Juniata High School

"Bill"

Science.

CHEMISTRY has always been the bane of existence to most human beings, but actually, here is a person who delights in lighting the Bunsen burner and whatnots.

Personally, "Bill" is a good friend to have. Usually cool and conventional, he is always ready to enter into a good time, and his consideration for his fellow sufferers is praiseworthy. He'd even give you the coat off his back if you'd need it. He is quiet and unassuming but stands up for his convictions, and these qualities are surely the measure of a man anywhere.

Four years has made us like the tall, familiar figure of our William.

"The mirror of all courtesies."

KATHERINE PIERCE

Spring City, Pa.

Spring City High School

"Kay" "Katie"

Arts; Women's Debate (1, 3, 4), Manager (3, 4); Tau Kappa Alpha (2, 3, 4), Secretary (4); Masquers (3, 4); Juniatian Staff (3, 4); Press Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Alpha Club (1, 2, 3, 4), Program Chairman (2, 3, 4); Classical Club (4).

THIS versatile-appearing maiden is the co-ed's foremost champion of the question of the superiority of the fair sex over men. "Kate" would rather argue that question than eat. We wish to inform all the curious that she is a difficult person to convince.

Of all the numerous girls, she is the one picked out by a certain young professor to be his only. This probably explains the reason for her superior and intellectual (?) attitude.

Now, laying all joking aside, "Kate" is a good actress and an experienced debater. A good friend and very active in student activities, she leaves the Hill leaving a place that will be hard to fill. Her familiar appearance in the library and on the campus will be missed by those who knew her.

"Stately, regal, yet full of fun,
She will win, when the race is run."

ELIZABETH PINALI

Patton, Pa.

Patton High School

"Betty"

Arts; French Club (2, 3, 4), President (3, 4); Hiking Club (2, 3, 4).

THIS is a good photograph of "Betty," but no mere picture can do full justice to her large, expressive eyes, her enigmatic smile, her dusky hair—but why continue this list of her personal charms? Four years with her have made us familiar with them. Those of us who have missed knowing her intimately have lost out on a good thing, for she's a sure cure for the blues. She's a big help in solving one's personal problems, although she usually gives such excellent advice that no ordinary human being could or would follow it.

Anyone who wants to hear "French as she is spoke" should listen to "Betty." Her untrippable tongue scatters the foreign lingo in all directions. And actually, she sometimes rises at five o'clock to lead enterprising hikers. For a time we thought she had insomnia but we've decided it's simply nerve.

Au revoir, "Betty." We've enjoyed knowing you.

"No beauty's like the Beauty of the mind."

ANGELINE PITTENGER

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

Science; Tapitawe Club (2, 3, 4); Chemical Colloquium (3, 4). Secretary (3, 4); Glee Club (2, 3, 4); Masquers (4).

UPON first acquaintance with our day student, Angeline, we thought she was exceedingly quiet and reserved, but her gentle speech and disposition has won for her admiration.

Although a day student, we see her at all activities on the campus, even though she takes chemistry of all sorts and varieties.

When knights were bold and ladies fair, the bravest knight would have won Angeline's colors. She has dramatic ability and were her lecture notes published she would be equally famous as a "shark" on chemistry formulas.

We hear a voice, "Well, I'll take a chance," and we know that Angeline is willing to miss her dinner rather than lose five minutes of library gleaning.

"A short saying often Carries much wisdom."

LLOYD PROVINS

Martinsburg, Pa.

Morrison Cove High School

"Shay" "The Lord"

Science; Student Council (4); Tribunal (4).

ALL Hail! "Lord" Provins from the manor of Martinsburg! A diligent and industrious student, Lloyd always seems to come out with a heap of that letter which comes first in the alphabet.

A student of football but a lover of America's most popular sport, baseball, we expect to see him tossing them from the mound this season.

When speaking of mathematics and science, we should not forget to mention this lad's name.

Did you ever see Lloyd dash madly away from the midst of a group of laughing fellows? Just having a little fun. He is a little gander and if a vital spot is touched, "Shay" will give his famous war cry "Yip! Yip! Whoopee!" Beware of flailing arms in such a crisis!

"A gift that heaven gives for him."

CATHARINE PRICE

Bellwood, Pa.

Bellwood High School

"Kay"

Science.

THIS demure and quiet lass has come to live at Juniata for only her senior year, being a commuter during the other three years. Thus, "Kay" has seen the life at Juniata from all angles. She is a serious young lady who considers work before play and consequently succeeds in it. Kind and sympathetic; always ready to offer helpful advice; a friend among both the commuters and the boarding students, "Kay" has proven to be a true Juniatian. However, her heart is not quite all at Juniata, because we feel sure that there is a portion of it in Washington.

"Happiness was born a twin."

CHRISTINE RADEBACH

Osceola Mills, Pa.

Osceola Mills High School

"Kris"

Science; Student Council (1, 2, 3, 4), Secretary (3), Vice President (4); Debate (1); Arts Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Masquers (2, 3, 4), Vice President (3, 4); ALFARATA Staff (3); Juniatian Staff (3, 4), Managing Editor (4); Chemical Colloquium (4); Class Day Committee Chairman (4); Biology Laboratory Assistant (3, 4).

A SUDDEN knock! The door opens and in walks the tall brunette with the calm gray eyes in quest of anything from asking someone to take her for a stroll to sympathy over the latest fate of Eutychus. She is never in a hurry, yet she does—well, look at her lineup of activities and draw your own conclusions. How does she do it? We don't know except that that is "Kris"; yet that isn't all of her. The gray eyes twinkle on not infrequent occasions and the things that please her are liable to call forth a very perky "Oh, golly!"

We presume she always has done things and we predict she always will; she does things logically—be they maiden aunts in Masquers' productions or editing Juniatians; and she does them judicially—whether suggestions for the Council or distribution of smiles over a range of masculine acquaintances, including red-haired men, chemistry professors and "good eggs from Hoboken." Accidental dimples, amicably sarcastic whatever the specialty, "Kris" makes good.

"Chief of a thousand graces."

CARRELL IRVIN RAINEY

Five Points, Pa.

Mahaffey High School

"Rainey" "Stormy"

Commerce and Finance; Press Club (1, 3, 4), Business Manager (4); Social Science Club; Akron University (1).

JUNIATA is losing in Carrell one who possesses a superb trait of flashy wit and good humor. "Rainey" is a bull session artist of some repute, for he has been able with his glittering darts to overthrow all his antagonists without exception. In gang forensics he wields the gavel and reigns over all with great facileness. Even with these unusual qualities he has taken much time to promote frolics in various halls and on one occasion to compose a funeral oration.

Sincerely, he is one of the preeminent of the C & F course. His administrative ability has been recognized, having been appointed the business manager in several activities. By his winning convivality, he has made for himself an envious group of friends.

"A sudden thought strikes me."

FRANK W. REINHART

Altoona, Pa.

Juniata High School

Science; Chemical Colloquium (3, 4), Vice President (3), President (4).

SMOKE filled the room! Bent over the black desk, intent on the product in a meager battle, his eyes lit with fervor—who!! Why none other than Frank, the chemist supreme!

Regardless of time and place, chemistry is his big problem. He thinks a baseball game is a new kind of chemical reaction. There is only one place to look for this young gentleman and that is in Science Hall. For four years he has followed a lonely trail except for a certain time when a J. C. co-ed became his chemical problem.

This sturdy fellow came from Altoona and has made grades that might well be envied by any student. He is a thorough and tireless worker and accomplishes whatever he sets out to achieve.

"Here is a man can do it."

JOHN F. ROWLES

Mahaffey, Pa.

Mahaffey High School

"Meanwell" "Johnny"

Science; Press Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Alpha Club (2, 3, 4); Football Squad (1, 2, 3), Varsity (4); Basketball Manager (4); Glee Club (2, 3); ALFARATA Staff (3); Chairman of Ring Committee (4).

THIS gent with the smooth name is one of the most familiar figures on the campus. As manager of basketball, "Meanwell" has been the butt of many a practical joke. Of all the well-meaning persons at J. C., "Mahaffey" stands alone.

"Johnny" has one thing in him that all should copy and that is the gift of stick-to-ive-ness. Year in and year out he stuck where another person would have dropped. Persistency of purpose is to account mostly for the winning of his letter.

As president of Third Founders, "Meanwell" trys to keep order on the hall. His success is quite evident.

Someone has said of him—"A little man in a big hurry going nowhere"—but you may rest assured that he will get somewhere in this world and we wish "Johnny" all the luck in the universe in his chosen profession.

"A pound of pluck is worth a ton of luck."

WILLIAM K. SCHMELZLE

Altoona, Pa.

Altoona High School

"Bill" "Gadget"

Commerce and Finance; Alpha Club (3, 4).

STAND back! Hold your breath and lift your feet till "Gadget" tells another thrilling episode of his carefree past. "Bill" has a host of friends and never lacks hearers. His newness of theme and nonchalance recompense for the tears of genuine anguish he wrings from his listeners.

In the department of C & F, his reputation is well known. He is held in high esteem by his professors and admired by his partners in crime.

No one laughs when "Bill" sits down to play for he certainly can make his banjo talk and the piano speaks for itself when his trained fingers go over the keys.

We have seen his activities on the campus, but when he is away—?? Inquire at the brick house on the corner of 12th and Mifflin.

"Youth comes but once in a lifetime."

ORRIN SCHOCK

Johnstown, Pa.

Jeannette High School

"Gourd" "Schocky"

Arts; Alpha Club (2, 3, 4); Masquers (2, 3, 4); Associate Editor ALFARATA (3); President of Day Students Administration.

A GENTLEMAN from the town? It must be "Shocky," a whale of a fellow with an oval grin. We respect him because of his ability to act the fool as well as any other part and still be serious in class. It is he who keeps a certain store on Moore Street supplied with girls.

Orrin seems to have a weakness for dramatics, for his familiar figure may be seen in every one of the major productions put on by the Masquers.

He forms one part of a "Damon and Pythias" friendship on the campus. If Orrin comes, can "Wid" be far behind? We predict great things for "Shocky"—espeially along the lines of acting.

"All the world's a stage."

CLYDE SCHROCK

Friedens, Pa.

Somerset Township High School

"Schrocky"

Arts; Tribunal (4), Secretary (4); Tapitawe Club (4), Vice President (4); Press Club (3, 4); Track Manager (4); "J" Club (4).

DEPENDABLE is Clyde who comes to us from Somerset County where men are taught choice and endurance. His temperament permits him to take all things calmly except for certain situations in which co-eds enter.

In spite of his heavy schedule of classes, Clyde has time to spend an occasional week-end in Lewistown. This boy has the honor of signing his name to all penalties meted out to freshmen and as secretary of the Tribunal he has served well. He is a friend to everyone and has the best wishes of all.

"Quiet waters run deep."

SAMUEL K. SCHULTZ

Johnstown, Pa.

Juniata Academy

"Sam"

Science; Chemical Colloquium (3, 4); Masquers (2, 3, 4), "Man of Destiny" (4).

SHAW must have written his play "The Man of Destiny" especially for "Sam," who played the part of Napoleon. At least, the Johnstown youth thinks so.

"Sammy" has been with us for a long time and a more earnest student can't be found anywhere. His interest is chiefly chemistry and the other sciences which will be of use to him when he starts his regular "med" course.

His limitations are few, his accomplishments many and he is included in that illustrious category of men who execute responsibilities assiduously, without praise, and without recognition. Truly, Juniata is proud of her adopted son.

"Genius is a capacity for evading hard work."

VERNA ALICE SECHLER

Ursena, Pa.

Confluence High School

"Slim"

Arts; Tapitawe Club (2, 3, 4); Hiking Club (2, 3, 4); Women's "J" Club (3, 4), Vice President (4); French Club (2, 3, 4).

SERENELY and calmly Verna has spent her four years at Juniata, managing to extract to the fullest extent her share of pleasure. Relying on other charms, Verna did not even blink an eyelash when other co-eds were looking pathetic and hollow-eyed as the result of diet. She did not even hesitate to room with "Bee," the most diminutive of Juniata co-eds; this being another proof that opposites attract. Exceedingly strenuous was Verna's job this year in the capacity of hall president for the traditionally naughty Fourth Brumbaugh. However, this duty was performed with the faithfulness and diligence which are characteristic of all her work; this, in spite of the fact that disciplinary control often interfered with her own love of fun.

When it comes to getting things done, we must hand the prize to Verna.

"'A smile will go a long, long way."

AMOS A. SHARPE

Hancock, Md.

Hancock High School

"Amos John"

Science; Chemical Colloquium (3, 4).

JUST one of the indistinguishable twins from south of the Mason-Dixon line. Amos—we hope we are right—is capable of many things not to mention the wide field of science.

"Amos John" is a hard worker, possessing a keen sense of humor and an unfailing good nature. His optimism is reflected in the threat that some day he will make himself distinguishable from his brother. He had no definite plans for the future, although like Caesar, he is ambitious. As for the matrimonial race, Amos claims he does not choose to run—but he may change his views.

"Peace with humor."

JOHN E. SHARPE

Hancock, Md.

Hancock High School

"John Amos"

Science; Chemistry Colloquium (3, 4); Student Council (4).

MARYLAND'S gift to Juniata! Not very big, but O, my! John can sometimes be told from Amos when they are apart. But, when together, make no effort to try to tell the one from the other.

As the college career of John draws to a close, we all realize that a great deal of fun and comradeship will be gone from our midst. John has endeared himself to all and we know that there will come a day when we will pride ourselves in his accomplishments. When it comes to courses in chemistry, John rates as high as the best of them do. In fact, both of these boys are "keen" thinkers.

"Humor with peace."

ETHEL SHIVELY

Huntingdon, Pa.

Blue Ridge Academy

"$C_2H_5$"

Home Economics; Home Economics Club (4); Alpha Club (4); Glee Club (2, 3, 4), Assistant Manager (4); Chairman May Day Committee; Senior Class Day Committee.

TO make her senior year complete, Ethel moved to Brumbaugh and although we expected her to be the usual mathematical offspring, each day brings us a new surprise and one never knows what Ethel is going to do next. "Fun, frolic and mirth" is her motto and the merry twinkles are never absent from her brown eyes. Her inclinations are domestic and the weeks she spent in the Practice House were to her as weeks in a grown-up playhouse. She never seems to have trouble in enlisting masculine aid even when she wants the kitchen floor scrubbed.

Ethel is always a wise counselor and friend. Many have taken advantage of her level-headedness and sound advice. She is a wonderful pal to her friends and some day she will make happiness reign supreme in her home.

"She speaks seldom
But her words are tuneful sweet."

HARVEY F. SHOWALTER

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

"Harv"

"Enoch" "Enoch Arden"

Commerce and Finance.

THIS is one of the home town boys! "Harv" likes Juniata, especially its co-eds whom he describes with glowing terms and with glowing eyes. If desires could come true, "Enoch" would be a second "Rudy."

During the evening Showalter spends his time catering at the College Inn. Is he a good waiter? Ask him!

Harvey supplies a good time to any desirous young person at certain definite periods. We refer you to him. Besides this, he is known as one of the group addicted to teasing, one of his specialties.

On the other side, "Arden" follows a C & F course. Having his work in on time is one of his enviable traits. No doubt he will follow the business part of the world and we feel that the best is due him.

"Always prepared."

KATHRYN SHOWERS

Lewistown, Pa.

Lewistown High School

"Kate"

Arts.

FOR four years through sunshine, shower and snowstorm, "Kate" has come from Lewistown to the College on the Hill. She gravitates mostly from the top of Students Hall to the Day Student Room and spends so little extra time on the campus that she is almost a stranger outside of the classroom.

When it comes to German, "Kate" carries away all honors. And what's more, she not only knows her subject but she can teach it. For information ask some of her day student pupils. She has a smile for everyone and a heart that will lighten her path. She has only one motto.

"If work interferes with play, give up work."

FRANK B. SHUE

Mount Union, Pa.

Mount Union High School

"Shuey"

Arts; Elizabethtown College (1); Ohio Wesleyan U. (2); Ministerium (3, 4).

AFTER trying out several colleges, Frank at last decided to try the queen of them all. Result? Juniata. The college of Alfarata so entranced him that he abandoned his wanderlust and settled down to pursue his quest for education.

This quiet, unassuming chap always has a smile and a pleasant word for everyone. It is with genuine pleasure that we see him reach the top rung of the academic ladder and receive his degree.

"Shuey," old boy, we wish you all luck in the world and hope that your life after college will be as pleasant as are our thoughts of you.

"He's true to God who's true to man."

ESTHER SIPLE

Harrisburg, Pa.

Central High School

Science; Chemical Colloquium (3, 4).

"THE only way to have a friend is to be one," said Emerson. Esther seems to have taken it as her motto.

If you're feeling troubled, go to her for she's sure to cheer you up. If you're in the mood for fun, the merry twinkle in her eye promises you many a practical joke.

An afternoon's "lab" work is quite enough to depress most people but it seems to make Esther only the more happy and cheerful. At any rate, she usually comes from the work whistling.

However, Esther takes her work seriously enough to make us wonder just what will be the next unknown she will discover. There are plenty unknowns that she has discovered of which we know nothing at all. How about it, Esther?

"A merry heart goes all the day."

BOAZ OBED SMITH

Blairs Mills, Pa.

"Smitty"

Arts; Ministerium (1, 2, 3, 4).

THIS gentleman is another one of the students at Juniata who goes about his daily work with the manner of knowing what he is doing.

His habitat is a place in the wilderness known as Blairs Mills. We are sure of one thing. That is—if they are all like "Smitty" in the town of the Mills of Blair it won't be long before it will be on the map.

His trusty "tin can" brings him from home and takes him back every day without fail. Boaz's responsibilities cover more than his own personal affairs and it's no secret either.

Along with his college work, he endeavors to carry on in his chosen profession at Petersburg and from all reports is doing fine. We have no fear that Obed will become one of J. C.'s most successful preachers.

"Every man is the architect of his own fortune."

ANNA STAYER

Woodbury, Pa.

Morrison Cove High School

"Ann"

Science; Student Council (4); Tapitawe Club (3, 4); Chemical Colloquium (3, 4).

"A TELEPHONE call, Ann." From the mathematics department, of course! She really is interested in mathematics and science but her interest extends beyond the problems and equations into other fields. "Ann" is a conscientious student—at any rate, her classes are always prepared. Work is play for she is just naturally bright. Extra-curricular activities have a time as her record may show.

An evening stroll is a part of her daily program and at the regular time we hear, "Who wants to go for a walk?" Usually, though, "Ann" has a companion who takes up her time quite frequently. If two persons, co-operatively can succeed, then this young lady can be considered as such.

"I with you, you with me,
Miles are short with company."

FREDERIC H. STEELE

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

"Frick"

Science; Orchestra (1, 2, 3, 4); Chemical Colloquium (3, 4), Treasurer (3); Arts Club (2, 3, 4); Advertising Manager of Juniatian (3).

A WINNING smile and "Frick" are synonymous. To those who know him, neither could be present without the other. With the asset of a fine personality there is little wonder that "Frick" is in good standing with everyone. His big LaSalle could probably tell a few secrets.

"Frick" left us at semesters for "sunny California" and next year will find him at Columbia University taking up his studies as a "med" student. His musical ability, wit and sincerity have won him the commendations of many, on and off the campus. They probably join us in wishing him all the success and good luck possible.

"An honest countenance is the best passport."

DONALD STEVER

Huntingdon, Pa.

Huntingdon High School

"Don"

Commerce and Finance; Y. M. C. A. (1, 2).

JUST another of the local boys who decided to make good and, therefore, came to Juniata.

To the class "Don" has presented the attitude of the serious-thinking, studious, ambitious young man. But, in addition to these qualities, we can readily testify to a geniality and flow of wit that is quite evident at all times.

His desire to lend a helping hand has earned him leagues of friends among both the faculty and the students. "Don" has not only been successful in his business activities and college career, but has combined his disposition and personality to win the esteem of all who come in contact with him.

"Of manners gentle, of affections mild."

MARLIN C. STEWART

Huntingdon, Pa.

Culver Military Academy

"Monk"

Commerce and Finance; Cheer Leader (1, 2, 3, 4), Head Cheer Leader (3, 4); "J" Club (4); Kat Club (3, 4).

THE cause of more hoarse voices than any other individual at J. C.—"Monk." But why shouldn't he be? When "pep" is needed, it is usually produced through the ability of this energetic worthy.

A fine fellow, sincere in what he says, but humorous on top of it all, "Monk" bellows his convictions to his listeners. When wrong, he will gladly admit it but, when right, don't try to convince him otherwise. It might prove futile.

His "All right, gang!" and "Louder! Louder!" in tune with rhythmic motions is as familiar to every Indian as his golden sweater. With a parry here and a thrust there, "Monk" presents a type of character that we all like.

"A rare compound of oddity, frolic and fun."

JOHN W. SWIGART

Huntingdon, Pa.

Mercersburg Academy

"Johnny"

Arts; Tennis (1, 3); College Band (4); Scout (2, 3, 4), Advertising Manager (2, 3), Business Manager (4).

WHEN John entered J. C. as a Freshman, he was a strong believer in the motto, "There is time for work and time for play." For three years he spent two evenings a week studying and the rest of the evenings educating himself by associating with the fair ones. Finally, he combined them.

To be a little more serious, we do not know where we have met a more congenial fellow than "Johnny." Travel has broadened his outlook on life and, with his easy way, coupled with his untiring efforts in whatever project he is interested, we can say he will be a leader wherever he goes.

On the court John has often shown a brand of tennis that may be classed with that of the most skillful in the court game.

"An hour for toil, a day for sport."

HAZEL V. TREECE

Conemaugh, Pa.

Conemaugh High School

"Babe" "Zed"

Arts; French Club (4), Vice President (4); Collegiate Club, Vice President; Y. M. C. A. (1, 2, 3, 4).

HOW, why, when and where, we don't know, but Hazel giggles. Any time, anywhere it suits her fancy you may count on her to furnish a share of the amusement.

Spending her leisure time in devious delightful ways, she still manages to get her lessons. Her report verifies the fact.

If you hear a stealthy knock on your door, you may bet that "Babe" is coming in to visit.

Many week-end trips have kept her interests alive elsewhere. We wonder!! No monotony in life for Hazel!

"A merry being, fun-loving, kind."

W. EARLE TROUTWEIN

Altoona, Pa.

Juniata High School

"Tubby"

Science; Glee Club (3, 4).

EVERYBODY loves a fat man, and we all love "Tubby." If a Dutchman ever had wit, here is the boy who wins first honors. Biology has made its imprint on this robust boy and Altoona has left her stamp on him. Yet with these handicaps "Tubby" manages somehow to come out on top.

There is one thing in favor of "Tubby." It is a safe bet that he will go to work for a living—but not until all other means have failed.

"Tubby" is serious in life and in love, optimistic, argumentative and ambitious; a well-met fellow who is destined to make his mark and of whom one may be proud to claim as a friend.

"Too wise to err
Too good to be unkind."

WILLIS L. WALLEY

Spring City, Pa.

Spring City High School

"Weary"

Arts; Glee Club (1, 2, 3, 4); Quartette (3, 4); Alpha Club (2, 3, 4); Band (4); Press Club (3, 4); Volunteer Group (1, 2, 3, 4); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (3); Hall President (4).

PONDER here, dear readers, and look upon the person who stirred large audiences with his melodious (?) voice. He is a capable student and fares well when the periodical cards are issued. The reason for his success may probably be found in his brief case which he never fails to have with him while on the campus.

Walley considers himself the ideal student, perhaps he has been "honeyed" too much about it.

He is well known for his modesty. An example of it may be shown: When asked how far he could sprint he mildly replied, "Just two miles." He should go out for the marathon; he lasts well.

"Weary" is a rare personage and can be a fine companion to anyone. Heureux to you, Walley!

"They conquer
Who believe they can."

ERNEST H. WEYANT

Tyrone, Pa.

Tyrone High School

"Ernie" "Editor" "Weeyant"
"Red" "Cyclone"

Arts; Press Association (1, 2, 3, 4), Vice President (2); Editor ALFARATA (3); Juniatian (3, 4), Editor (4); Associate Editor Scout (4); Editor Indian (4); Chemical Colloquium (3, 4); Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (4); Vice President Council (4); Beta Tau Kappa (3, 4), Secretary-Treasurer (3), President (4).

"WEEYANT" is one of the reasons why a certain hall is called Purgatory and he's probably the reason why the Juniatian is what it is—much as we do hate to put all the blame on him. He really has done splendid work on both the ALFARATA and the Juniatian, to say nothing of the Scout.

As a matter of fact, every phase of journalistic work at Juniata has been the better for his efforts. And then, he, himself, is a very fine person, gifted with a keen sense of humor even if it is a slightly unfortunate one. Witness broken furniture, football games in chem lab and a real or fancied resemblance to Queen Elizabeth.

"Ernie" was a woman hater for three and a half years at J. C. but one day he fell before a glance from two brown eyes and his goose was cooked. Considering everything, we still like "Red" and he deserves more compliments than we've paid him.

"A flash of scarlet crept
In swift diagonal across his cheek."

JAYNE WHARTON

Mount Union, Pa.

State College High School

"Jaynie"

Education.

COMING from Penn State, Jayne is now numbered among our commuters, Mount Union being her destination each evening. A jollier pal than "Jaynie" would indeed be hard to find. Her blue eyes win their way right into your heart and, once you know her, you will never forget her.

A scurry through the hall, a door bangs, a smothered giggle and "Jaynie" flops into her seat. Her inexhaustible supply of optimism make her an altogether delightful and indispensable member of the class.

Every now and then, there is a trip to her former home and we presume that she has a good time while she is there.

"Bright as morning dew she sparkled."

P. RAY WEIST

Richland, Pa.

Richland High School

"Bud" "Viest"

Science; Tribunal (3, 4), Secretary (3), President (4); Juniatian Staff (3, 4), Circulation Manager (3), Business Manager (4); Alpha Club (2, 3, 4), Vice President (4); Business Manager Indian (3); Baseball Manager (4); "J" Club (4).

WHAT'S he noted for? Oh, yes! —those good, old-fashioned Dutch pretzels from way down east in the Dutch country. With his thick brogue "Bud" gets along with everyone in his typical way. Who fear him most? Freshmen, of course, but you know they are green.

Putting all joking aside, upon entering Juniata in his sophomore year, "Viest" stepped right into the affairs of his class and has maintained the standard throughout the years. Despite a few weeks in the hospital through the Xmas vacation, Wiest has come back with the same old optimism. For a fellow like that we can predict success without fear.

"He smote their childish hearts with awe."

FREDERIC WITMER

Osceola Mills, Pa.

"Buddy" "Doctor" "Bishop" "Freddie"

Arts; Ministerium (1, 2, 3, 4), Secretary (2, 3), President (4); Tau Kappa Alpha (4), President; Debate Manager (4); Classic Club (4), Vice President; Volunteer Group (1, 2, 3, 4); Y. M. C. A. (1, 2, 3, 4); Oratory (1, 2, 3, 4); Juniatian (3, 4); Press Club (2, 3, 4).

YES, sir!!! Here is the boy who will make William Jennings Bryan a back figure in oratory! Always ready to do anything from giving advice to the lowest freshman to leading the parade for the school! He is the outstanding exception to the rule that "good goods come in small packages." When a debate or oratorical contest is held, you can usually find "Freddie" on the platform. He has no use for the "try, try again" rule for he does it the first time.

As a student of Greek and Latin he is the idol of the faculty and the despair of the rest of the class. When he addresses his club, he slings a wicked line of adjectives. His services as a minister are in demand to such an extent that he is often called "over the river." We wonder what he says while there.

This young man is a good example of what a person can do for himself if he wishes to, for "Freddie" has gone through college without the advantage of high school training. There is no fear of the future in this chunky youth.

"Who, too deep for his listeners, Still went on refining."

DANIEL K. ZIEGLER

Hatfield, Pa.

Hatfield High School

"Dan"

Science; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet (3, 4), President (4); Glee Club (1, 2, 3, 4), Manager (4), Quartette (1, 2, 3, 4); Juniatian Staff (3, 4), Contributions Editor (4); Press Club (2, 3, 4); Tribunal (3, 4); Volunteer Group (2, 3, 4); Tapitawe Club (4); Chemical Colloquium (3, 4); Cast of "Goose Hangs High" (2).

A LADY'S man! Why, yes! None other than "Dan," our curly-haired postman! He knows all his patrons by their first names, especially a select number.

As manager and member of the Glee Club, he has his share of singing and at certain times his "caroling" is much in demand.

This boy is also an actor, having played in one of the classics of J. C. in his sophomore year. Since then, his activities have become so numerous that his time has to be budgeted—and naturally he has time for social devotions.

The "Y" claims him as its most responsible leader and one may see him leading the songs during the evening devotional meetings.

We are certain that success awaits this young gentleman when he goes out into the world.

"He was her man, Friday."

GRACE ALLISON

Hollidaysburg, Pa.

Hollidaysburg High School

Arts.

AFTER having missed her for one semester, we were glad to welcome Grace back to the Juniata family. Had we had a fatted calf, we would probably have killed it. Friendliness is one of Grace's chief attributes. A jolly laugh is the heavy bludgeon with which she drives away the blues. Then, too, she's a good student. Grace possesses many characteristics which make her a valuable comrade.

Her favorite song seems to be "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight." Who? Now, don't ask questions. Besides, we thought everyone knew about it.

Her mail is quite heavy and the youngsters that she taught keep the postman busy with their good wishes. There is a belief that those that are loved by children are sure to be in good grace with any others and we are sure that Grace has the good will of every one.

"All, who joy, would win."

FRED DAVIDSON

Bedford, Pa.

Bedford High School

"Dave"

Science; Glee Club (2, 3, 4); Orchestra (1, 2, 3).

MEN of various abilities have come and gone but with the going of Fred, Juniata will realize she has lost a true son. His ability to sing in the Harmony Club was recognized early in his academic career and he has participated in that form of diversion at times.

When "Dave" first landed in Huntingdon, he was a shy, bashful lad. But, it was not long before he lost that attitude and became a Juniata man. At times he is deeply devoted to his work but they are not frequent.

Taking all things into consideration, "Dave's" ability, looks, etc., we know that he is the type who will leave his mark in this world at some time in the future.

"A good fellow well met."

MARIAN RINEHART

Pottstown, Pa.

Spring City High School

Arts; Volunteer Group (4); Y. W. C. A. (4).

AT semesters Marian joined us. Although we haven't become so well acquainted with her yet, we have already learned to appreciate her unfailing cheerfulness. As a matter of fact, we wonder how anyone can work as hard as she does and still remain as cheerful. She is a diligent worker and, usually, one can find her in the library, reading poetry, preparing the next day's classes and, in fact, doing anything but wasting time.

Marian is greatly interested in Christian work and proves a source of inspiration to those about her, while her ready friendliness always helps one over a hard moment.

"Good cheer and service in her heart."

CHESTER REECHER

Hagerstown, Md.

Hagerstown High School

"Chet"

Commerce and Finance; Alpha Club (4); Masquers (3, 4).

JUNIATA adopted her Alma Mater to the tune of "Maryland, My Maryland," and in a like manner she adopted "Chet," also from the Cavalier State.

"Chet," coming from south of the "line," is not entirely a Southerner though he has many of the South's winning ways. To give an accurate description of this lad is a tough proposition because like the proverbial nature, he is still and deep. On the outside he has proven himself to be one of the finest we have here, and we know that somewhere inside he is keeping hid some exceptional qualities.

"Chet" has been just as successful in his activities outside the classroom as in and we know that there is someone who will gladly welcome him when he leaves us. We wish you all the luck there is, "Chet," and success in any undertaking.

"Down in the land
Where the sun shines brighter."

R. C. SIERSEMA

New York, N. Y.

Curtis High School

Science; Director Physical Education at Juniata (1927-1930); Panzer College of Physical Education (1, 2, 3); Instructor and Coach at William and Mary College (1923-1927); Sigma Delta Psi (Active Membership); Omicron Delta Kappa; Lambda Chi Alpha; Phi Epsilon Kappa.

WE have saved the best for the last. An athlete of repute, a leader among men, a master-gymnast, Coach Siersema is responsible for the progress that athletics have shown here in the last three years.

This is the person who gave to Juniata the finest football team in its history. Always ready to help out anyone, considerate and appreciative, the "coach" has made himself a byword at Juniata.

He decided to leave J. C. with a degree so he worked hard in his few spare moments and successfully achieved his goal. Coach Siersema is planning to study medicine in a Virginia university and if he makes as many friends there as he has here, there will be no doubt of his success. Best wishes and au revoir, "Coach!"

"Though modest, on his brow
Nature has written—Gentleman."

Class of 1930

Motto: Non solum nobis Colors: Cherry and Silver

OFFICERS

JOHN BEERY - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - - President
WILFRED STAUFER - - - - - - - - - - - - - Vice President
GLADYS CLAUSS - - - - - - - - - - - - - - Secretary
ALDEN HOLSINGER - - - - - - - - - - - - - Treasurer

More than one hundred and sixty freshies climbed College Hill in the fall of '26 because of the urge (parental and innate) for a higher education. The first semester found them true to the color of their labels and kept them catalogued until Move-Up Day in May. The usual Freshmen gamut was run and it ended by all saying, "Being a Freshman was fun but I am glad it is over."

The Sophomore year was entered with the expected Sophomore bravado—"wise fool"—period when that know-it-all attitude was in prominence and each was out for Freshmen gore. However, this difficult epoch came to an end and the alliteration "jolly Juniors" became pertinent.

Added responsibilities were taken on during the Junior year. A year book had to be edited and made better than any previous one. Every class member with any literary ability was set to work and the result was a better Alfarata.

Fourth and last scene of an eventful college career—the dignity of being a sedate Senior and knowing that one must be a leader and a pattern for the freshmen who look on with envy and ask, "How is it done?" It is at this stage that one begins to realize the truth of the old adage, "I don't know and I know that I don't know."

The curtain falls on Scene IV and exit Class of '30 with her quota of leaders who have stood out along athletic, literary, journalistic and executive lines. We sing again the old refrain, "Where, oh, where are the grand old Seniors" and the class of 1930 belongs to the ages.

JUNIORS

Paul Fouse

Hesston, Pa.

Arts

And now, fellows, gather around for some eats from the homestead at Hesston. Paul, our president, stands for what is right and he is a great exponent of truth. He is in too much of a hurry to sit in on a "bull-session" but expresses what he thinks and leaves. Yes!—forever in a hurry and forever late for everything from chapel to Glee Club practice. Almost any girl is a "nice kid" to him but he still goes to see one that is not on the campus.

Robert Peel

Schuylkill Haven, Pa.

Science

Here is the likeness of our own vice president. Step right up, folks, and get a view of the "famous Art Shires"!! (self-named.)

The "Senator" is on his way to the bar and 50 per cent of his education is completed for he can talk. On the side he indulges in the major sports and some more talk. Just a big shot, folks!!!

Ethel Brougher

Johnstown, Pa.

Arts

Pegity! Pegity! Who wants to play pegity? Ethel always enjoys play with her study. Moreover, many a song has gone over big because of her ability as an accompanist. A dash of vivacity; a touch of reserve; an element of capability! Combine all these and you have our associate editor and our class secretary.

John Saylor

Berlin, Pa.

Science

Here is a fellow that uses his room just to sleep in and seldom for much of that. All day he is "Johnny-on-the-spot" for job after job and when he hasn't enough business of his own, he finds time to raise a more or less quiet hall out of its lethargy. A better hearted or more sympathetic friend, however, is not to be found than our John, treasurer of our class.

Bernard Andrews

McKees Rocks, Pa.

Arts

"Andy" is one of the men who shine in classroom as well as on the field of combat. Baseball, basketball, and football have been "Andy's" fields of glory but there is still another phase of his endeavors that is worth mentioning. Believe it or not, he is a policeman! That is, during vacations. "Andy" holds a rather unique position, being football captain, the captain of baseball and captain-elect of basketball.

Mitchell Atalski

McKees Rocks, Pa.

Science

Behold! The guiding hand of the 1930 Alfarata; the man who piloted the year book through a very stormy voyage. But it was through the efforts of this "despot" that the annual was completed. His versatility may be seen by the office '31 elected him to fulfill—that of the editor-in-chief of the Alfarata. Journalism does not occupy all of "Mitch's" time for he is an athlete of some repute as well as quite a lady's man.

Chester Baird

Altoona, Pa.

Arts

Introducing you to the "prince of day-student debaters." This worthy can always be found in an argument of some kind no matter where he is, be it in the classroom or club-room. And truthfully, he is a debater of no mean ability.

"Chet" is just another of Altoona's sons bent on getting a liberal education. When on the Hill, the library is his favorite haunt, except during the noon-hour debates. He is not only a serious and conscientious student, but a real friend.

Helen Barclay

Huntingdon, Pa.

Arts

Tall, good-looking and seemingly quiet, Helen is one of those day students of whom we wish we could see more. Every morning she drives to the Hill in her big Buick, with all her classes prepared, and leaves only too soon for her work downtown.

However, by her fireside, she isn't so quiet, and there we learn of her deep interest in that war-like city of the West—and we understand everything.

Edith Baker

Philadelphia, Pa.

Arts

Philadelphia Normal's loss was our gain when "Edie" became one of our coeds. A charming person at whom to look and a friendly one with whom to be. She adapted herself to Juniata's ways quickly. Living out of the dorms did not prevent her becoming popular. Is it her smile, her eyes, or her ways? We haven't decided yet, but no doubt it's all of her.

Blanch Barkley

Manns Choice, Pa.

Arts

This tall, dark-haired miss leaves a question mark in the minds of many people on the campus. Last year many of us wondered why she liked to spend so much time in the chemistry laboratory but now the problem has been solved. And how! And, would you believe it, she takes her "nights out" to study chemistry in the social room.

Marian Bartle

Altoona, Pa.

Arts

The next number on the program, ladies and gentlemen, is the "Girl from Altoona," starring our own "Marnie." Give the little girl a hand—she deserves it. Her quiet charm has won her an enviable place at Juniata. In the committee, in her club or in private life, she's the sort of girl whom you want to see as much as possible.

Carmen Beatty

Huntingdon, Pa.

Home Economics

"Carm" appears on the campus every day and disappears every night to her downtown haunts. She fools some of us, but others have read the secrets that lie in her merry brown eyes.

"Carm" is an enthusiastic Home Ecs student. We wonder what she would say if you would ask her why?

Wilmer Berg

Mt. Pleasant, Pa.

Science

One moment, gentle perusers, at this handsome likeness of the man with the strongest voice on the Hill. Guaranteed not to falter through worry and woe, Berg and his voice are unique.

We remember the time on a football trip that "Will" realized the bare facts presented because of his riotous bellowing.

Quite an imposing chap, dignified and courteous, he has left his imprints on us all.

Hugh Black

Altoona, Pa.

Arts

Now girls, put this wavy-haired boy's name right in your little books. He's very popular, girls, but give him a week's notice and he will be available. Hugh dropped out of school several years ago waiting for a good class to come along and when '31 appeared on the horizon, he jumped at the chance to be one of her members. We are sure he will come through anything he undertakes.

Dare Bolinger

Huntingdon, Pa.

Science

A young gentleman who is conscientious, studious! A deep chuckle and you know it's Dare.

"Ed" has a laughing complex and his manly giggle may be heard in almost any of his classes. Since he does not live in the dormitories, we know little of his life, but we know that he is a good sport and a general good fellow.

Helen Britten

Saxton, Pa.

Science

Helen has an almost uncanny faculty for impersonation (and that word faculty may correctly and reminiscently be taken in two ways!) But we always remember that under the mimicry is the personality we all know—Helen with her ready smile, her delightful chuckle, and her pep. Although she thinks it too bad that she can't whistle, knowing Helen, we don't mind.

Emily Carruthers

Mount Union, Pa.

Arts

"Pee Wee" is, as her name suggests, quite a little girl who commutes from Mount Union every day. Although the train often causes her to be late for her morning classes, yet she does not permit this disadvantage to interfere with her studies. She has a high scholastic standing at J. C. and is well liked by her fellow commuters.

Helen Christopher

Everett, Pa.

Arts

Who? You mean the girl with the Parisian "bob." Why, that's "Kris"!! Yes, she really was in Paris and sometimes her friends think they are in France when they hear her speak the language. Although "Kris" isn't wild about automobile horns, she surely has a weakness for radios. She is a real pal and her friendship is valued by all who know her.

Zelma Clapper

Everett, Pa.

Arts

Always earnest and sincere, Zelma pursues her way. In spite of her protests that she "couldn't bawl anybody out," she was elected president of Fourth Brumbaugh. Could one help but co-operate? She is a friend to all and a regular good sport, for wherever there is fun going on, there Zelma can usually be found.

Mary Cook

Waynesboro, Pa.

Science

Those large brown eyes have such a way of expressing "Cooky" that words are inadequate. Because of her ability in the line of write-ups, this young lady had the burden of composing many of these masterpieces.

Demure and quiet as she looks, don't be misled. Her tongue is as quick as a whip and her pieces and "cracks" are quite subtle.

Journalistic work fascinates her very much. Ask the editor of the weekly.

William Cremer

Huntingdon, Pa.

Commerce and Finance

"Bill" is a quiet boy from a busy thoroughfare, namely, Mifflin Street. For three years he has wended his way to the Hill where he can be seen working or playing diligently. He was especially conspicuous on '31's great basketball team which won the championship in their sophomore year. He is so quiet that the suppositions as to his future must be procured from the hands of others.

Robert Croyle

Shirleysburg, Pa.

Arts

No one sees much of Croyle. He is rather like a spirit on the campus. It not only takes work but real ability to combine college work with selling automobiles and that's what "this bear for punishment" does. His voice earns him a share in the Glee Club trips to Philadelphia where he bravely warbles to uphold the honor of old J. C.

Gladys Detwiler

Williamsburg, Pa.

Arts

When we learned in psych class that "a good sense of humor is quite valuable in reasoning" we understood why "Glad" has made such a success of her debating career.

A suggestion of a smile is found on her lips always.

Since semesters she has gained, in addition, quite a widespread fame for her remarkable ability to remember dates. Which kind? Well, glance at her "impish little face" and judge for yourself.

Boyd Dickey

Berlin, Pa.

Arts

A deep voice paused in its melodious strain, "singing in the bathtub," and a smiling countenance met our eyes and a merry ha! ha! smote our ears.

Boyd is familiar about the campus to all. Extra-curricular activities take much of his time, but despite this he finds time for studies.

A glee club without "Dickey"—impossible!

Sue Dowler

Ebensburg, Pa.

Education

Coming to Juniata in her Junior year, Sue lived her life apart from the campus, and yet, her interests went everywhere. While at Goucher, Sue showed marvelous musical ability; on J. C.'s campus she exhibited a broad cultural background. Sue's restless temperament led her to seek journalistic work in New York.

Kathryn Fisher

Lewistown, Pa.

Arts

We don't know "Katie's" philosophy of life, but it must be a good one, for it keeps her smiling and cheerful in difficult circumstances. Never obtrusive, always kind and gentle, she knows how to be a true friend. As a student one finds her in the front ranks.

Esther Flodin

Lanse, Pa.

Arts

"Deany" is a real friend with all the word implies. Although busy with her own tasks and pleasures, she is always ready to listen to the problems of others and help with them. A true beauty lover, she appreciates all things lovely—a picture, a poem, a snowfall. And how "Fourth" would miss her keen sense of humor!

Persistency may be a good quality but it sure means "give up" when this reporter comes around for a Juniatian article.

J. Jarrett Fluck

Quakertown, Pa.

Arts

The quiet boy from Quakertown who at one time was the "butt" of the hall! This was before he was taken in hand by a certain well-known organization. "Jerry" is now a member. Always quiet, peaceful and courteous, he is one of the best-liked fellows on "Third Heaven" and as a student of history he has no equal.

Thelma Fouse

Huntingdon, Pa.

Arts

One of the snappiest tricks on the campus is our "Jackie," the flash basketball forward, the clever dancer, the hard-boiled "kid," who, underneath the veneer of seeming sophistication, is a very real person. You always know where you stand with "Jackie." No touch of hypocrisy or insincerity about her. We all appreciate her straight-forward attitude.

Marguerite Fraker

Huntingdon, Pa.

Education

"Peggie" is a very pleasant lass who greets everyone with a cheery smile. She is very interested in all the activities at Juniata and is present at all the events.

Taking an active part in soccer and hockey, we find that her athletic ability equals her scholastic ability.

Apparently there is someone else who finds her as nice as we do, judging from whispers concerning letters to and from Mercersburg.

Robert Gibbel

Brunnerville, Pa.

Arts

Gaze upon him, the pride of E-town! "Bob" left our sister-college to show Juniata what the typical Dutchman looks like and how he acts. Y-a-a-s, and he likes his sauer kraut and schnapps as well as any. Two years of hard fighting on the various athletic teams have won him a steady place at the training table, where he occasionally demonstrates his ability to catch milk by the pitcher-full.

Robert Gibson

Schellsburg, Pa.

Arts

Well, well, if it isn't "Bob," the itinerant student. This person is always traveling in his "lizzie" and it's a difficult matter to say just where he is situated.

Seldom seen about the campus, no doubt "Gibby" is somewhere on a mission of good.

His unruly hair and ready smile have been the downfall of quite a few of the fair and we don't know but that could be applied to a present situation. Eh, what!

Mildred Gnagey

Somerset, Pa.

Science

This quiet blonde came from sunny California—and "La Verne" still sends her news of its "doings." But she readily found a place in J. C. life.

Mildred usually has an opinion that is worth hearing, especially on subjects that, in her estimation, are worth discussing. In other words, she deserves to be called a student—a decidedly sane and normal one.

Louise Gracey

Mount Union, Pa.

Education

Louise hails from the big city of Mount Union. For three long years she has journeyed in all kinds of weather and by various means to Huntingdon to attend the college on the Hill.

A sudden burst of laughter, a clatter of spike-heels and we know Louise is going to her next class. She is full of fun yet diligent. Everyone who know her likes her, because she is herself—a very good reason.

Mary Graybill

Manheim, Pa.

Arts

She's the girl with mischievous eyes who is always cutting capers on Second Oneida. Do you enjoy pure sarcasm? Seek Mary's company. Her smile, however, will betray that she doesn't mean what she says and is only finding vent for her gay and lively spirit. Seek her when she is serious and you will find an understanding heart, a penetrating intellect and a girl who has dreams and ideals.

Eula Guthrie

Friendsville, Md.

Home Economics

Eula is the kind of a girl who never cuts class because she is unprepared for she is always prepared. With an inexhaustible fund of good humor, Eula usually finds the comic side of a situation before the rest of us do. Quite a pleasant person with whom to associate!

Hymen Halpern

Altoona, Pa.

Arts

Certainly "Hymie" should be lucky in love since he has been named after the god of marriage. This fair son of Altoona came to the haunts of Alfarata after one year at Pitt Junior College in Johnstown.

Two years has shown '31 that "Hymie" is a valuable asset. This bold conqueror of science has proven a thorn in the life of a certain "prof." Yet for all of that he is a real worker.

David Hanawalt

McVeytown, Pa.

Arts

McVeytown has produced some great people and "Dave" is no exception. For three years he has made his way to the campus after a hard ride on the "Pennsy Local." By serious study and good-fellowship he has a warm spot in the hearts of all his contemporary students. While on the campus, he is always busy at some form of activity, be it classes or be it not. In fact, "Dave" is just another one of the big shots among the day students and their famed club room.

Lillian Harbaugh

Waynesboro, Pa.

Arts

Our Lillian, to whom we owe the success of the feature pages of the Alfarata, has proven to be not only an excellent student but also an important addition in various lines of outside activities. In fencing we have seen her attain success.

She is an alert and capable person who does things in a big way. More power to her!

Mildred Hess

Waynesboro, Pa.

Arts

Basketball, fencing, orchestra, library, classes, and study—that's how "Milly" spends her time, to say nothing of the bull-sessions and feeds she enlivens by her droll sense of humor.

Also, she's an expert at putting over the most nefarious practical jokes to which one could be subjected. However, such is the quality of her friendship that one immediately forgives her and returns for more.

Benjamin Hoffman

Elizabethtown, Pa.

Commerce and Finance

A prince of refinement is "Ben," for he truly is a most dignified young gentleman. A man of few words, he is gifted with an ability to tend to his own affairs. "Ben's" popularity is most excessive; but by that, he is not phased in the least. He can appreciate anything from good music to static in the social room. All fellows are treated alike by him and he is not degraded by speaking to freshmen. "Did you say eat? Well, let's get to it."

Mary Catherine Holsopple

Washington, D. C.

Arts

"Mary Kit" came to Juniata from Bridgewater College, Virginia. She was with us only one semester, but in that time she won many friends with her charming personality. She was a member of the Alpha Club, the Glee Club and the Press Club. If her card is a prophet, we are sure that success will come to "Kitty."

Alice Hower

Mount Union, Pa.

Arts

Mount Union contributes another member to our class. According to the present rumor, Alice expects to change her abode to the dorms next year. In her work she has shown a quiet and unassuming manner. After work comes play and we wonder how she spends her leisure hours.

Evelyn Hower

Johnstown, Pa.

Arts

Evelyn's blonde hair, blue eyes and smile win her way. The dependability and efficiency which are present in her nature are a delight to her co-workers. She is full of pep and if she becomes as good a faculty member as her impersonations of those worthy people she will be a marvel. Another thing! F. & M. does not mean fair and warmer to Evelyn.

Frances Hutchinson

Huntingdon, Pa.

Arts

Here is "Huttie," a distinguished member of the ranks of the anti-chatter mobilization. "Huttie" doesn't rend the air with static but remains silent until someone tunes in for a real conversation. She lives a life of contentment and not that of an excitement-seeker. When she knows that real fun is afoot, she drops her reserve and enters into it whole-heartedly.

William Jamison

Blairsville, Pa.

Commerce and Finance

When we think of "Bill," we immediately think of lovely curls and brown eyes. But don't blame him too severely. Millions have fallen with much less excuse and, after all, he is only human too.

In football and track he has made a name among the best. A consistent point getter in track, a "never-out" man in football, and a real addition to the basketball squad shows what this lad can do.

Frances E. Jones

Huntingdon, Pa.

Arts

"Fattie" is gifted with originality. She is sure to do something just a little differently. "Fattie" works when she has to; otherwise she enjoys herself. She comes to Juniata as a daily visitor and usually has enough attraction downtown that she is rarely seen on the campus. However, she is well known for her smile and her love of fun.

Pauline Keiper

Woodbury, Pa.

Education

Pauline is another of these people with so many good qualities that we fear to enumerate them all lest we make her appear too good. She is an earnest, conscientious student, but she doesn't sacrifice her sense of humor to work. She is active in Y. W. work and surely does her bit.

"Polly's" many duties do not keep her from enjoying life, for she believes in combining pleasure with work.

Florence Knavel

Windber, Pa.

Music

Another of the Glee Club songsters—a very talented one this time. Her hair is so delightfully red that we wonder whether or not she has the temper that proverbially accompanies it. We've never seen any evidence of it, because she's always the rather quiet Florence that we like.

Mary Knepp

Nook, Pa.

Arts

Every day, rain or shine, a conscientious student makes her way from Church Street to the classrooms on the Hill. Who is it? Why, it's Mary—Mary with her kindly smile, bright brown eyes and cheerful witty manner. Has she a natural aptitude for language? Just look at her report card; the story is told.

Thomas H. Knepp

Yeagertown, Pa.

Science

And in this corner we have "Klarinet Knepp," Rudy Vallee's closet rival!! "Tom" and his clarinet are constantly moaning except during parades. Music is his hobby but biology is the profession in which he excels. He is coming out for the hurdles soon, for he is practicing by trying to make the piano in one jump. His modesty forbids him to wear pajamas in public, nevertheless, what about the dining room?

Esther Kunsman

Altoona, Pa.

Home Economics

"Where's Red?" is the question asked of her room mate numerous times a day as "Red's" chums call for her. When she takes her friends home for a week-end —Whoopee! We've wondered why "Red" didn't take the Arts course but then "Art" and Home Ecs seem to be co-operating in perfect harmony.

Kenneth Law

Newton Falls, Ohio

Science

And now, facing charges of triteness and sundry other dangers, we introduce a "gentleman and a scholar." Somehow he has escaped thus far from falling victim to Dan Cupid. With a tremendous capacity for work, an insatiate desire to help others, "Ken" is in line for the gain of glory, honors, fame and other miseries. Until that time we privileged few are proud to hail him a "jolly good fellow well met."

Richard Lehman

Martinsburg, Pa.

Arts

"Grab up a piece of stool and squat." On entering "Dick's" room one is liable to hear such words as these in a quiet, composed voice; he is noted for his subtle wise cracks. And what he can't say about the "calorific canines" on a Saturday night in our dining hall! Behold him; for he is able, by means of sociology, to distinguish between the Reformatory and Fourth Founders. Dick is one of those fortunate ones who can look after his own affairs which makes him well-liked.

Russell Lucas

Philipsburg, Pa.

Science

Who is that dark, little fellow so arrogantly strutting about the campus? He reminds one of a bantam stepping high and mighty. Why!! It's "Mouse"!! The name? Grapenuts, there's a reason.

His fancies are as light as western zephyrs for he goes at least once with as many frauleins as possible.

"Lukie" is a hard plugger, has stick-to-it-iveness and, all in all, this small package is of the best.

Martha McClain

Huntingdon, Pa.

Arts

Rattle! Rattle! Honk! Honk! Here comes "Muzz" in her "tin can" to attend classes.

It would take a volume to tell all we know about this demure classmate of ours. Many chapters would be filled with the names of friends, including profs, bankers, etc.

We often wonder why "Muzz" never attends any of the J. C. functions. Moonlight and a Ford! Ah, romance!

Eugene McCoy

McVeytown, Pa.

Arts

Here we have one of the "Romeos" of the campus, "Joe College" himself. He must be a representative of the Emerald Isle, else why the "wearing o' the green?" Whatever may be his shortcomings and afflictions, it remains a fact that he is a star that shines most every night on Hospital Hill.

After two years as a commuter, "Gene" decided to give the campus the joy of his presence. However, after one semester in the dorms, the temptation of many nights out was too strong to resist and he again joined the legion of the "communioneers."

Wm. T. McGinnis

Honesdale, Pa.

Arts

What a fiery monster is "Bill"! Coming from a county of a thousand lakes, we wonder why he hasn't cooled off by this time.

"Mac" is a wise-cracker of some repute. We wonder if a "Polly" has anything to do with it. In loving as well as acting, no doubt "Bill" has a way that is original.

Because of his originality, he was made an editor on this volume's staff and he is responsible for a lot of the print that appears in this book.

Chester McTavish

Altoona, Pa.

Science

This is the reason why all jokes are about the Scotch. Behold, the image of "Mac," the typical Scotchman of joke and story! Why Altoona allows him to roam about unmolested is more than one can guess.

"Chet" has many phases of interest but the laboratory holds his love. When he is not working some undefinable formula, he is trying to make noises like a cat fight on a much-abused violin. But this Altoonian has won a place in the daily life at J. C. and he takes all jesting in fun and gives wise ones in return.

Romeo Mari

Youngwood, Pa.

Science

The most radical man on the campus! "Romie" is radicalism personified. He is one of those determined fellows who cannot and will not change an opinion once it is given. Seeking newer pasture, he left us for a year—which time he spent at "Peets Kollich." There he decided that he would rather be a "fish in a little pond than a little fish in a big pond," so he returned to Juniata.

His value to the class was shown in his being elected circulation manager of this annual. Many friends are his but as yet he has found no one to play the part of "Juliet."

Albert Means

Brookville, Pa.

Education

In "Al" we have a basketball player of the first caliber. The playing of this stellar forward added much to many a victory for the Indians.

"Pres" is honorary hoseman for the Fourth Founders fire brigade. To all appearances this Jefferson county product holds himself aloof, but that can be explained, since he holds an office no one at Juniata ever cared to rival.

Melvin Meyers

Rockwood, Pa.

Science

The Alfarata found a real worker in "Mel"???? As photographic editor he did his best. As for being a good fellow—let J. C.'s most exclusive club vouch for that. To those who do not know him, he goes about his work with a superior air. Biology is his domain and when "Mel" talks on that subject, he has no equal. In him we look for another Darwin.

Robert Mostoller

Stoyestown, Pa.

Science

Here it is!! "Buttercup"! The king of Fourth Founders! Juniata's steeple jack! He doesn't go on football trips because he doesn't like "Miss Huntingdon."

When he opens his mouth to speak, the Frosh stand in awe while the uppers run for their boots. "Mossy" is a serious student and a good friend to all who know him.

Louise Nolan

Barnesboro, Pa.

Education

She must be Irish; or whence the black curls, the black eyes, so merry and yet so wistful; or whence the combination of flashing wit and gentle melancholy. Quite a delightful person! The one fault we find is that "Lou" restricts her circle of friends, which keeps the rest of us from knowing her as well as we would wish.

Caroline Pearce

Clearfield, Pa.

Arts

When the hall president tramps down the hall looking wild-eyed and frenzied, you may be sure "Carrie" is entertaining Fourth Brumbaugh in her characteristic way. Blues simply "fold their tents like Arabs and silently drift away" in her presence. "Carrie" has a decided penchant for mimicry which often brings disaster.

A girl with superior ability in many lines is she, but her avocation is taking things easy. However, "why rush anyway? The next trolley is coming!"

Marie Pentz

Denton, Md.

Home Economics

"Who is the good-looking blonde? The one playing side center?" Those who know could answer for that is what they ask when she appears on the floor. The nicest part about "Pentz" is that her attractions are more than skin deep. The "pep" and "punch" which characterize her have won for her many friends.

William Phennicie

Garrett, Pa.

Arts

Here, ladies and gentlemen, is a lad who hails from the attic of Somerset County. Strange as it may seem, "Bill" takes only passing glances at Juniata's co-eds. However, every other week-end this lad finds his way back to his native haunts. Whether it is because he cannot stay away from his parents is not fully known, but we do know that "Bill" believes in a good time while home. No doubt he will bring home the bacon sometime in the future.

Fred Reinhart

Altoona, Pa.

Science

"Willy" is just another boy who hails from Altoona, journeying to Huntingdon each day. He is a friend to all, and always willing to help one in difficulty. As an assistant in physical chemistry, he is just the man; minding his own business and wishing that all others would do the same. He is not only outstanding in the study of chemistry but is a leader in other lines also. One sees him visiting on Mifflin Street quite often.

Jeannette Replogle

Altoona, Pa.

Arts

"Jeannie" may be small in stature but when it comes to favorable qualities for friendship, personality, or character, she ranks as high as the next. Her giggle is contagious and mirth-provoking. We all like her and we hope she likes us.

As a circulation staff member, she flitted here and there busy as a bee with the result that she ranked the highest number of sales among the girls.

Catherine Roberts

Bedford, Pa.

Arts

The girl with the bushy, curly hair? That's "Kit," vivacity itself. Fortune has bestowed on her a flash of artisticness that goes to make the artist.

Her scholastic work takes up most of her time, but she has intervals for other interests. What!—er! We didn't mean to infer anything.

Grace Smith

Altoona, Pa.

Education

Grace's wistful face is seldom seen about the hall, due to the fact that she is a commuter and that a great deal of her time is devoted to penning daily epistles—"The Moore the merrier."

Her deepest interest seems to be along scholastic lines; her work is done well and promptly, and she is willing to help a classmate.

Thomas Smith

Greensburg, Pa.

Commerce and Finance

Introducing you to "our" "Tom," one of the sheiks that roam the campus. When "Tom" smiles, he thinks the women will fall.

As a member of the Alfarata staff, he gave his best and his efforts show. For three years he has led '31 in class basketball and is the type of a player that thrills. "Tom" is also a member of the most exclusive club off the campus.

Anna Snyder

Huntingdon, Pa.

Arts

"In again, out again, in again!" Peppy, sympathetic, never on time; that's Anna! Since she is a day student, we have not had her companionship in the "off" hours as much as we would have wished. From what we've heard of her in such a capacity, the loss has been ours.

Wilbur Speicher

Somerset, Pa.

Science

A "pumpkin roller" from the hills of Somerset. A verbless sentence with a complete meaning. "Spike's" great objective in living is to get things done, no matter how long it takes.

If he's not in the laboratory at any time, he is in his room working away at the next day's problems. The hardest courses and the hardest profs are "Spike's" only means of getting recreation.

John Steen

Belle Vernon, Pa.

Arts

"Well, honey, I'll see you in the morning." These are "Johnnie's" famous words about three nights a week in the reception room. He is always complaining of the "uncomfortable work-benches" in the social room, but he seems to enjoy the warmth of that room just the same. A true lover of music is he in more ways than one. Although not a preacher, the atmosphere of his hall is enough to make him one. When mischief comes along, he is "Johnnie-on-the-spot."

Samuel Steinberger, Jr.

Lewistown, Pa.

Science

Rather quiet is "Sam," except when he is under a baton. With the tympani in the orchestra and cymbals in the band, he is a musician of no mean ability. His chief delight is to juggle figures and equations.

As business manager of this volume, he is to be congratulated on a fine piece of work.

Blaine K. Stewart

Birmingham, Pa.

Commerce and Finance

The Birmingham sheik! This is the one and only reason why girls leave home to go to school at Birmingham. His frequent trips to Boston are not caused by his love for beans. This boy is majoring in Jewish Engineering. For the benefit of the unlearned, it means Commerce and Finance. Being a commuting student, he is noted for his flying trips between home and the Hill.

Leona Stouffer

Zullinger, Pa.

Home Economics

On the surface Leona seems quiet and demure enough, but, actually, to quote her roommate, "She's about as quiet as a thunderbolt." Her flow of speech is inexhaustible as her willingness to assist a poor mortal, not versed in the art of sewing, to thread a needle or to demonstrate the use of the thimble.

Some man will be fortunate for he'll never lack a paper weight while Leona is able to make biscuits. Turn this sentence around in meaning, Leona, and it greets you as a compliment, for whoever heard of a biscuit "light as a feather?"

Russell Strayer

Hollidaysburg, Pa.

Science

"Russ" is one of the boys we know very little about. Sometimes he's here and sometimes he's there. He once roomed in the dorms but now he commutes for reasons unknown. He has contributed little to the sum total of the world's knowledge but indications prove that he will do so in the near future. His favorite pastime is coining expressions that would do credit to any.

Ralph Stump

York, Pa.

Arts

A typical York County Dutchman! When the train passes a little red house in South York it's "all ain't not mom." Water, water everywhere but why bathe when it rains? and pajamas! They sure make "purgatory" colorful. His characteristic remark is "Anything in it for me?" and, dear me, I would like to catch the man who gave him a trombone.

Raymond Stump

York, Pa.

Arts

The brains of the works—and how it works! Is St. Peter partial to trumpet players? We are glad for Stew's sake that he got in before the student body was limited to 500. They say only crazy people talk aloud to themselves. Well, this is either false or——???

Alvin Underkoffler

Valley View, Pa.

Science

"Undy" is the "Bill Tilden" of J. C. This star tennis player is frequently seen both on the court and campus with another good racket wielder. She is a southpaw and plays a good game, too.

A clean-living athletic, an A-1 chemist, a remarkable fellow portrays Alvin. When not in the chemistry "lab" or on the tennis court, he can be usually found near his "sell."

Ruth Walker

Somerset, Pa.

Arts

Another Walker! This one walks straight into the hearts of her many friends. The likeable thing about "Rufus" besides her enchanting waves is her helpfulness. When there is so much to be done for parties, programs, etc., that everyone else is frantic, she steps in and cooly gets things done. A good sort of a sport!

Margaret Watts

Curwensville, Pa.

Science

"Peggy" is one of those rare persons who is ambitious in a quiet way. Not without some real perseverance, she received her "Standard" and left us to teach. While she was here, her ability as a singer won for her an outstanding position on the Glee Club. Best success to this plucky girl.

In the warm September days of 1927, the class of '31 came to Juniata with an enrollment of one hundred sixty-nine members—imbibed with youthful faith. The following days were filled with many never-to-be-forgotten incidents. History has recorded that we lost to the Sophomores in the annual home-coming football fray but that we held our own in basketball by producing a championship team in the intramural tournament. We contributed seven men to the football team, two to the basketball squad and three to the baseball squad while the girls had a championship soccer team. We not only contributed to the realm of sport but also to the Glee Clubs, orchestra, band and debate teams.

Convening again in the fall of '28, class spirit was shown in an over-abundant amount. The volley ball season ended with our class on top, hard pressed by the Seniors. The girls won the basketball championship. A great number of places on athletic teams were filled by our members. During the winter a sledding party to Neal's provided diversion.

The Junior year was entered into with a spirit of determination to carry on the responsibilities left them by the previous class. The work of editing the Alfarata was entered into with zest. Leaders for other extra-curricular activities were found and now the class is realizing the responsibility that lies ahead.

We realize that we have come, at last, to the goal, Seniorship, and the class is finding in their possession the foundation of a new and purposeful life.

Yes! We are glad to be Juniors, though we look forward to the new year before us.

The Alpha Club, as the name signifies, was the first club to be organized after the dissolving of the old ones. Its main purpose has been to enhance the social life of the campus and it has succeeded in fulfilling this with its pep, jollity and unique parties. Underlying this is the desire to promote an interest in the musical, dramatical and oratorical possibilities among its members.

The social activities of the club opened this year with a moonlight hike to Cold Springs. Here before a large campfire weiners were roasted and songs were sung. The initiations made many a new member feel chagrined while the mystery of the catacombs and various unedible concoctions helped make the neophytes appreciate the end of the revelries. In October while Old Mother Witch was holding séances with the spirits, the Alphas had their Hallowe'en Party, a delightful, enjoyable affair. A mock faculty meeting was staged at another meeting of the club and the mannerisms, speech, etc., of each faculty member were imitated.

Each meeting of the Alphas has resulted in something new, something different, something entertaining and, with an increase in membership and talent, the club is looking forward to another successful year.

"To provide opportunity for personal expression along lines of practical and theoretical art, music and literature, and to promote general sociability among the students" has been the aim of the Arts Club for four years. In that time the organization has made itself felt as an influence for broader, richer, more cultured living on the campus.

The realization that interest can be effectively sustained only in a small, closely-connected group has led to a definite policy of limiting membership to only those deeply interested in the club. Nevertheless, the club has been able to make life more interesting and colorful, not only for its own members but also the student body. Aside from the jolly, interesting evenings spent together, Mrs. Gilbert's Bach recital and the club's formal party stand out vividly in last year's history.

This year has added another to the growing list of things done for the whole school, namely, the recital of modern music by Ronald Eicher and the informal reception following. The calendar for the second semester has a number of outstanding events: three public affairs, a sonata recital by Professor and Mrs. Karl V. Gilbert; a reading of "The Merchant of Venice," by Miss Meade Seawell; the customary exhibit and tea. These, together with the regular fortnightly meetings, will bring the club to the close of another successful year.

At the beginning of the school year the small group of members that remained from last year got together and reorganized—practically forming a new club.

The club adopted a new constitution with social activities as its primary purpose, thus enriching the social life of Juniata. So far the club has successfully carried through this purpose and has uncovered new and entertaining talent.

The fall rushing season brought much valuable material to the club which increased the membership considerably and gave the club a flying start on a very successful year. Talent made it possible to have interesting and varied programs.

The semester elections brought a complete turnover of officers. Thus the spirit of the club was refreshened and this change offered valuable training to the newly-elected officers.

In stressing its aim the members have become better acquainted with each other and some life-long friendships have resulted. The Sigma Delta Club has found its efforts worth while.

Three years ago a number of active students on the campus decided that a need for something new in the way of clubs had arisen and so they banded together to form the Tapitawe Tribe. With Juniata's "Indians" and historical Indian background, the club chose an Indian name and immediately fitted into a place among the established campus organizations. Still honoring the traditions of both the valley and the college and with the purpose of the club at heart, the name Tapitawe was chosen, meaning "together for all" in the tongue of a tribe of Delaware Indians.

True to its name the club has for its motto "Together For All" and manifests this spirit in everything it undertakes from initiation to the weighty matter of the council fire.

In the program the tribe aims to present selections for varied interests. Then too, when the outdoors call to the wandering Indian spirit, the members take trail and hold their council fire in true Indian fashion. Thus, with both intellectual and social programs, two important phases of campus life are supplied.

The membership is rather large, many of the classes being included. With the new material of each year bringing some new good to the club, the "well done" of the club is surpassed and it is on the upward trail to even greater glory.

In the year 1928 under the leadership of Miss Lynch, Le Cercle Francais, one of the professional clubs on the campus, was organized. All those who have completed French II and are taking French III are cordially invited to this club.

Le Cercle Francais was organized for the purpose of furthering fluent French conversation and to create an interest in French life as a whole. That this interest may be active instead of passive is the wish of all members. To this end the meetings are held fortnightly at the same time as the other professional clubs.

The meetings of the clubs which are conducted entirely in French are of various types. The lives and works of France's great men in literature and art are discussed. The music of French artists is studied in recitals rendered by some interested members of the faculty. French drama, past and present, is studied in the presentation of plays. The social life of the club is upheld in the singing of French songs and the playing of numerous French games.

Last year under the supervision of the faculty of the Chemistry Department of the college, a group of students enrolled in advance chemistry courses organized the professional club known as the Chemical Colloquium. This organization has for its purpose the promoting of interest in chemistry and aims to study this science in a fashion that supplements the work in the classroom and laboratory either theoretically or practically. Only those students who have taken advanced work in chemistry or are enrolled in a second year course are eligible for membership. New members are voted into the Colloquium at the discretion of the old members. Interest in the subject as shown by the work of the students is taken into consideration when neophytes are named.

This year instead of having student speakers address the meetings of the Colloquium as was the case for the most part formerly, the organization has invited men of note in the field of chemistry to speak about their particular field. Dr. E. C. Wagner, former professor of chemistry at Juniata and at present of the University of Pennsylvania, addressed the Colloquium February 1 on the subject, "The Determination of Mercury in Mercuro-Organic Compounds." After the lecture the organization enjoyed an informal social time in the college social rooms. As the Alfarata goes to press, plans are under way to have several other well-known chemists come to the Juniata campus and address the Colloquium.

The Home Economics Club is one of the unobtrusive clubs on the campus. Its aim is to further the work of the Home Economics Department on the campus and in the town. It makes an effort to put into practice those things which the members learn in the classroom. This year "Little Nick" received the benefit of the seniors' knowledge but the Thanksgiving Vacation brought her early college education to a close.

Interesting programs are offered at each meeting of the club, the general routine often being interrupted by such activities as the taffy pull, the Valentine party and a Washington tea.

In the spring the annual exhibit and fashion show along with the Commencement tea are the events which really make the girls practice what they learn in the classroom.

Foils crossed! The clash of steel! Action! That is the X Club! As the result of feminine interest in a chance bit of fencing on the Juniata campus in 1928, a class was formed under the instruction of Coach Siersema and intensive training in the fundamentals of the art was begun.

Interest increased the next year with additional members in the training class. An exhibition of note was put on as a feature of the Physical Education program during the spring home-coming celebrations of the past two years; and it was in April, 1929, that nine members formed a club.

It was decided that the name of the club should symbolize the foils of combatants—hence the derivation of X Club. The officers bear the names of the three musketeers and altogether this organization claims the distinction of holding a unique place in Juniata life.

In the charter granted by the faculty, the purposes set forth by the club included widening the scope of physical education at Juniata, promoting interest in fencing in particular, maintaining a high standard of health and fostering a spirit of good sportsmanship among its members.

Candidates must go through a period of rigid training and finally prove themselves in combat before being admitted to the club.

The Club is looking forward to the time when fencing will become an active sport at Juniata and teams will take part in intercollegiate combat.

The classical club, which is the newest of the professional clubs, was organized November 21, 1929, under the direction of Dr. I. H. Brumbaugh and Miss Keirns of the Latin and Greek Departments. Students who have had at least one semester of college Latin or Greek are eligible for membership. The purpose of this organization is to promote a keener appreciation of, and interest in, the customs, literature, art, and religion of the ancient Greeks and Romans.

The club meets every two weeks and interesting programs are presented, in which studies are made of the life and customs of the ancients. One meeting was devoted to the study and discussion of Pompeii, its history and excavations that have been made. At another time Virgil was studied, since 1930 is the two thousandth anniversary of his birth and is being universally celebrated. A special feature of interest in the programs is the study of ancient myths, the stories of gods and goddesses who roamed the earth centuries ago. Greek and Latin games are also played and Latin songs are sung. An interesting part of every program is the roll call, to which the members respond with some classical allusion such as the names of writers and quotations.

The work of the club emphasizes the cultural value of the study of the classics and of knowing civilizations other than that of modern times. The club offers an easy way of acquiring knowledge that would not ordinarily be brought up in class work.

After becoming partially oriented to college life and to the ideals of Juniata the Freshmen class, consisting of approximately one hundred and sixty students, was assembled and organized as the Freshmen Club.

The talent of the club was clearly shown on the evening before home-coming when they put on a stunt. The way in which the participants in the stunt "ducked" the over-ripe vegetables which appeared on the scene demonstrated the fact that they had at some time or other passed through a colorful stage career.

The "papooses" blamed the Sophomores for breaking up their show and revenged themselves the following day by trouncing their rivals, the high and mighty Sophs, in their annual football game.

This year the "Frosh" did not stop howling after the "pep" meeting but continued yelping till Monday and helped celebrate J. C.'s victory over Susquehanna by turning out in full force for the pajama parade and the tearing down of the old fence.

Alas! All good things end and after Thanksgiving Day the Frosh Club was no more, having now graduated into the green Freshmen Class.

In the past the Men's Student Council was more or less of a joke since it had practically no jurisdiction over cases involving the suspension or retention of a student.

In searching for a remedy for this deplorable situation the council and administration arrived at a plan whereby a faculty advisory board was appointed to be at the disposal of the council. This board, it is believed, will iron out the faults that did not lie with the council but which were attributed to the council by a student body that is very sensitive of its rights, but which in most cases does not know the facts as they really are.

Since the advisory board has been installed the council will handle all major cases as well as the minor ones. It can feel reasonably sure that all penalties will be properly approved since the advisory board will be in a position to interpret to the proper authorities what the students want and why or why not they passed certain penalties.

The Women's Student Council, which is composed of representatives from all four classes, was organized in 1922. Since then, it has striven, against many handicaps, to provide better social conditions and a high standard of morals at Juniata. And to some extent its struggles were not in vain; for it is slowly but surely winning the full support of the student body which was under the impression that the Council was a tyrannical punishing body; whereas it is merely a guide for the students to govern themselves.

It has also practically overcome the lack of understanding between the administration and itself. This was accomplished by meeting with an advisory board appointed from the faculty. Wherever a serious problem arose, in this way, the faculty could review the students' views and the students could view the opinions of the faculty and arrive at some conclusion.

This year both the Men's Council and the Women's Council have been working on a new constitution in an effort to remove some of the undesirable conditions. As the Alfarata goes to press, this constitution is being rushed to completion.

Stop!! Look!! Pay attention, for this is the Men's Tribunal!! It was organized as a committee of the Council to enforce Freshmen regulations. To all appearances there are no Freshmen "regs"; for no more can be seen the old familiar scenes such as skirts, glaring signs and peanut rolling episodes which were featured by the Freshmen who felt themselves honor bound to break rules.

We feel that the fault does not lie with the Tribunal, since none of its members look as though they belong to a humane society. Rather it has been the fact that they have been informed that the Freshmen have some quality that no other freshmen class ever had heretofore, namely, personal dignity. This peculiar characteristic according to all reports must not be harmed or tampered with. We hope that coming classes do not have this peculiar trait so that they may be dealt with accordingly.

For the last four years, the Freshmen women breaking regulations given them in the Scout have met the Senior-Junior Court. This body, composed of seven members, four seniors and three juniors, is given its power by the Women's Student Council.

As a judicial body it has the power to enforce Freshmen regulations which are more than mere punishments, but are ways to test and develop will power, co-operation and the law-abiding element in each Freshman. The Court plays a great part in helping the neophytes orient themselves to a new environment. Thoughtfulness of others, respect for upper classmen and love for their Alma Mater as requisites are demanded.

It is the wish of many Freshmen to be called up at least once but these are a few exceptions as compared with the many who try to miss a few court meetings. All punishments administered by the Court are approved by the Women's Student Council before being given to the offenders. Though some members may seem harsh, each is carrying out her duty in helping the students have a real student government. With each member doing her part, the Court is bound to become a permanent and successful cog in campus organizations.

The most recent religious organization that has developed at Juniata is the Ministerium. It was organized two years ago under the able leadership of Dr. T. T. Myers, now deceased, and has grown into one of the most influential organizations for the fostering of a religious atmosphere at Juniata. It endeavors to tenaciously uphold those religious principles and ideals that so characterize its founders; it seeks to bring before the student preachers the experiences of outstanding ministers who have had a large measure of success—so that when these young ministers leave the walls of Juniata, they shall be better prepared to serve in their respective fields as pastors or missionaries.

A large number of the members of the Ministerium have active work as student pastors, so that they may help themselves through college and also get the experience for their life's work. This not only brings material aid but also gives the whole Ministerium an opportunity to acquire actual practice and to profit thereby.

Letters were sent out to various missionaries in all parts of the world, who have gone out from Juniata and the answers that have been received have been beneficial and inspiring to the members. Under the supervision of the local ministerium, the members of the college ministerium took a complete census of Huntingdon and vicinity. The late Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh, Dr. Ellis and other members of the faculty have addressed the group.

The Ministerium has become a vital and potent factor in the life of the school.

There are these who plan to enter the foreign field, those who will teach or preach in the homeland, and finally the group that, though not spending their full time in definite missionary work pledges to actively support this work with time and money. All are devout in their purpose to set Christ before men that they may know Him.

The activities of the Group, though varied, always seek to bring the group together in mutual helpfulness and to further the cause that is theirs. Devotional services are conducted on Monday and Thursday evenings.

The Group sponsors deputation trips to various churches in the vicinity and the money that is gotten in this way is used to support Stover Kulp, a missionary in Africa.

The Y. M. C. A. not only gives each man a chance to come into communion with God but sponsors the social life of the college. During the first week of school, the annual Get-Acquainted Party is held in the gymnasium. At the close of the football season, a banquet is tendered the football team. Parties for the school are given at various times during the year.

Meetings are held each Sunday evening. Students, faculty members and visitors contribute to the programs. At times an open discussion of campus problems is conducted. This gives the students a chance to voice their opinions and give suggestions for the solution of the problems on the campus.

The Indian, a publication containing the program of events for Home-Coming Day, is sponsored by the Y. A handbook for the Freshmen, the Scout, is also under the supervision of the Y's.

It is the aim and purpose of the Y. W. C. A. to help the women of Juniata to grow after the pattern set for us by the Master: "In wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

Before the opening of school the Y. W. provides each incoming freshman girl with an upper classman as a "Big Sister." The Big Sisters are zealous in becoming friends and helpers to the new girls and in doing much to help them become familiar with the college atmosphere.

The first social event the Get-Acquainted Party, is sponsored by the Y's. Besides that, this year, there was a Y. W. breakfast hike to Flagpole Hill early one September morning. Throughout the year the Y helps to plan parties and to stimulate wholesome social life on the campus.

At Christmas time a successful bazaar was held. This year the gymnasium, as it was decorated for the occasion, presented a pleasing contrast to the outdoors. There was an old-fashioned garden-tea room and realistic spring flowers "bloomed" in every nook and corner of the gym. The money obtained was used to send girls to conferences.

In addition to the bazaar, gifts were provided for the orphans of the Orphans Home in Huntingdon.

In the spring was the annual co-ed banquet and the beautiful and elaborate May Day exercises.

Every Sunday evening there were held vesper services which proved an inspiration to every girl who attended them.

The workings of the Y. W. helps all the girls to realize the reality of Christ and the way in which He can become a companion and daily helper in our college life.

Although some members were lost through graduation, the Beta Tau Kappa has carried on. Each year sees the addition of two new members.

This club is composed of the Editors and Business Managers of Juniata's annual, the Alfarata. Through the efforts of this organization, early elections of Alfarata officers are held and the intricacies of publishing an annual are divulged to the newly-elected.

The purpose of this organization is to sponsor interest in annuals among the students, serve as an advisory board for Editors and Business Managers and encourage improvements in coming annuals.

As a result of this club, the student body's interest is culminated and they see the great responsibility that is attached to the publishing of the annual.

In spite of the late start which they got this season, the men debaters under the able management of Frederic Witmer were given a schedule similar to one of previous years with a few notable additions.

A significant aspect of this year's debate was the response in the tryouts. To the call of the manager more than twenty men rallied and declared their interest in the intellectual sport of sports. However, in the actual tryouts, only ten debated; and the faculty committee judging chose six speakers and two alternatives.

Odd though it may seem, the Pennsylvania Conference had a "time of it" in choosing a query. "Resolved, That the U. S. should withdraw from the Kellogg Pact" was selected and it met with seething opposition from several quarters. Consequently another query, "on disarmament," was written by several colleges, independent of the Conference, and submitted to prospective opponents. Juniata's spellbinders constructed briefs of the latter query and used them twice.

The number of dates for each team was about equal with a large number of home debates and a trip away for each team. As this publication goes to press Muhlenberg, Geneva, Rutgers and Albright are yet to be met by the Juniata debaters.

The first tryout for women's debate at Juniata was held February 10. About fifteen girls responded. The teams chosen were presented with the hardest schedule ever attempted. The question for debate was: "Resolved, That the U. S. should withdraw from the Kellogg Pact."

Under the leadership of Manager Pierce and the fine coaching of Miss Seawell, the teams closed a creditable season of women's debating for Juniata.

Each team made one trip, the negative going west, the affirmative going east. The debate with Geneva's negative team was cancelled on account of the death of President Brumbaugh.

Features of the season were an audience decision at Slippery Rock and no decision at Geneva. Lebanon Valley suggested a new step by having open forum at her debates. A reception followed each of the home debates. As the ALFARATA goes to press, Ursinus and Lebanon Valley are yet to be met.

Credit and thanks are due Miss Smith for her able chaperoning on the debate trips.

The Tau Kappa Alpha is a national honorary forensic fraternity. The chapter at Juniata was established in 1927. The main purpose of this honorary society is to promote oratory among the students. The members are chosen from the debate teams and debaters are judged for the fraternity after each season.

From the student members of the T. K. A. are chosen the debate managers for the year. Katherine Pierce and Frederic Witmer manage the women's debate team and the men's debate team, respectively.

The members that belong to this fraternity through Juniata's chapter are: Telford Blough, Rufus Reber, Swirles Himes, Samuel King, Raymond Morris, Claude Flory, Dr. E. L. Craik (honorary), Ruth Culbert, Naomi Trostle, Marion Commons, Katherine Pierce, Roy Schrock, Alger Geary, Prof. Earl Dubbel (honorary), Caroline Pearce, Mrs. R. C. Wigs and costumes, paints and powders, actors and masks equal the Juniata College Thespians, namely, the Masquers.

The dramatic club of J. C., which is open to all students fulfilling certain requirements, has been in operation for several years, and has made a creditable if not an enviable record. The plays it has staged were masterpieces of which "The Servant in the House" and "Sun-Up" were the best presentations.

The first semester saw the staging of "Sun-Up" which was acclaimed a success by all. The coaching of this play was exceptionally fine due to Miss Seawell's intimacy with the mountains of her native state, North Carolina. The second semester play, "Icebound," was also a fine demonstration of the fine work of the club's coach.

Dramatists, actors and plays of the present day are studied and at the club's meetings, a very real atmosphere is achieved. In Miss Seawell has been found a valuable coach and a sincere friend. Much credit is due her for the good work of the club in the past year.

Each year the Masquers enter the Pennsylvania State Intercollegiate Dramatic Association Contest and for the past few years their efforts have not been successful. The contest is to be held at Bucknell this year and for it the Masquers are preparing "The Man of Destiny" by Shaw with which they hope to make a far better showing than in previous years.

With the motto, "The body, the servant of the mind," the Sigma Delta Psi encourages moral, physical and mental development in the colleges where it has been established.

In order to pass the tests which are becoming more and more difficult each year, the persons trying for membership must have perfect co-ordination between body and mind. Some of the tests that must be passed are: hand-stand in good form for ten seconds, a forty-yard football punt, 100-yard swim in one minute, forty-five seconds, a five-foot high jump, etc.

Coach Siersema who has seen this organization doing beneficial work at other institutions was instrumental in having this nationally-known honorary fraternity established on the Juniata campus.

As yet there have not been any new members added to the membership which includes three active members (R. C. Siersema, Alden Holsinger and Eugene Apel) and four honorary members (O. R. Myers, Jack Oller, J. Clyde Stayer and Harold Engle). With the approach of spring and fair weather, the tryouts of several candidates will be held and, in all probability, a few will gain the coveted goal.

"All right, gang. A locomotive yell for the team and make it loud!" This is one of the commands that the cheer leader gives at pep meetings. With co-ordination he and his co-workers keep the yell unified.

Because of a need for an organization that would sponsor more interest in cheer-leading the Pep Club was dissolved and the Kat Klub was formed. The purpose of this feline group is to promote more pep and more enthusiasm on the campus for athletic teams. Meetings are called frequently and the Kats undergo practice so that cheer motions may be uniform.

This year from the Kats, the student body chose Paul Bechtel as song leader. At the half of each football and basketball game the Alma Mater was sung under his direction.

During the basketball season, co-ed cheer leaders, Marion Reitz, Helen Commons and Helen Shaffer, were tutored by the Kats. They led cheers during co-ed basketball games.

Each member of the Klub is supposed to wear a regulation uniform when leading cheers, but this seems to have been disregarded this year to a certain extent. Next year will see the Kat Klub doing its big bit in increasing school spirit.

This group of sturdy fellows comprise the Varsity "J" Club. Since it has been known as "the most active club on the campus," it is a privilege to belong to this club of athletes and athletic promoters. As an organization of lettermen with the interest of Juniata at heart, the "J" Club has as its aims the promotion of fellowship among the wearers of the "J" and the keeping of Juniata along the proper trend in intercollegiate as well as other progressive athletic endeavor. Anything that is for the good of the school has been strongly endorsed by this organization.

There are approximately thirty-eight active members on the campus at the present time. For every football game this group has published programs for the convenience of Juniata's supporters and they annually help out in the publication of the Indian on Home Coming Day. The functions of the "J" Club on this day are climaxed by the annual "J" Club banquet at the Leister House. The club probably set a precedent this year when each member was permitted to take a girl friend to this banquet.

On earning their "J", new men are taken into the club on either one of two memorable occasions, namely, the spring or fall initiations.

The goal for all J. C. co-eds is none other than the Women's "J" Club. Under the influence of this organization soccer, baseball, and hockey have been introduced here at Juniata. All co-eds are eligible for membership under a new point system. By earning a "J" in some major sport, and by earning 550 points or the equivalent of two class numerals membership is achieved.

After a long struggle for recognition, the co-ed "J" Club has come to the front on the campus. Every year for the last three years the wearers of the women's "J" have worked hard and have always endeavored to obtain a new sport for the co-ed to enjoy.

Taking all the efforts put forth by the Club any Juniata co-ed should feel honored to wear the "J".

The Gold Key Club, which is composed of three Sophomore managers from each major sport, was organized in 1928 for the purpose of receiving and welcoming visiting athletic teams. It was organized and is sponsored by the "J" Club, who felt the need of such an organization.

Although its primary function is to welcome visiting teams, it also welcomes visitors in an effort to make them feel at home. Thus, alumni, visitors and visiting teams leave our Alma Mater with some idea of what the Juniata spirit is and what it means.

The Keyers are often confronted with very vexing problems in that they must swallow their school spirit, show an active interest in the comfort of visiting teams and see that proper conditions are produced so that opponents are able to put forth their best efforts in the coming contest. They faced a baffling problem when Gallaudet was welcomed.

The members are also very helpful and proficient as ushers at basketball games, where their services are invaluable. This club is quietly and persistently working at all times as is revealed by the many compliments that Juniata has received concerning the fine work of this group.

A group of happy, carefree co-eds sauntering in the open, enjoying nature's charm and beauty—that's the Hiking Club. The girls who have been wise enough to go on the hikes sponsored by the club certainly have had some jolly times. And thrills too! ! Thrills like rolling down a mountain side, crossing a swinging bridge, catching salamanders, etc.

The hikes are not long, usually between four and twelve miles. A group of girls start out with a leader, a girl who has already hiked 300 miles. The hikes are mapped out and posted. A hike to Cold Springs and back for example, is six miles. When tramping the woods or climbing, the amount of hiking is judged by time, fifteen minutes allotted for each mile.

To become a member of the club one must hike 300 miles; to retain membership 200 miles must be hiked each year. An Old English "J" is awarded to those who hike 600 miles; a "J. C." monogram is awarded to those who hike 300 miles; and for every fifty miles hiked seventy-five points toward acquiring a varsity "J" are also given.

A strict record of the number of miles each girl hikes is kept. It is always ready for inspection.

The club, besides developing an appreciation for the many forms of natural beauty to be found near the college, offers clean wholesome exercise for its members.

In accord with the advance that athletics have taken at Juniata it was found necessary to create the Athletic Board of Control. This step was taken in order that the alumni, faculty, student body, and trustees might be represented on the board that controls the policy of Juniata's athletics.

This organization elects the managers for all the sports; it helps the managers to arrange the schedules; and finally this board passes on the schedules that are submitted by the managers.

This board is composed of the head coach, two representatives from the faculty, one from the trustees, one from the student body, and one from the alumni. The men who comprise the board at present are: R. C. Siersema (Head Coach), O. R. "Quarter wheel to the right! March!" The command came from no other than R. C. Siersema, Head Coach and Physical Education Director. Not only did Coach Siersema teach the crude Freshmen the fine points in physical education, but he also coached a J. C. grid team to victory over Susquehanna U. and directed that team to more wins than losses—two things that never happened before.

"Yoah all are excused for today," is the order given by Miss Nancy Burke, Coach of the girls' basketball team and Director of co-ed gym classes. Miss Burke has filled very well the place left vacant by Miss Florence Bain.

"Practice for form first, the rest will come later. Get your form down." This is the favorite expression of J. Harold Engle, Juniata's track coach. "Hardy" is a former Juniata athlete who drifted into the field of coaching and has turned out many "crack" track teams for his Alma Mater.

When coaches and instructors are mentioned, we must not forget Jack Oller, a quiet young man who assisted Coach Siersema in football; also J. Clyde Stayer who assists in the various sports. Last but not least is Alden Holsinger who is not satisfied with winning laurels on the gridiron, track and basketball court but has taken a hand in teaching the Sophomore men the fine points of gymnastics.

These are the persons who have made the well-known "athletics for all" possible at J. C.

Football Review 1929

Juniata's most successful football season to-date! Five games were won, Johns Hopkins, Susquehanna, Upsala, George Washington and Wagner being defeated; while four games were lost, namely, to Muhlenberg, Drexel, Alfred and Dickinson.

Sept. 28 found the Indians at Allentown, Pa., where they played against the Muhlenberg eleven. Mainly through an aerial attack, the Cardinal and Gray gained the one-sided victory, 25 to 0.

The next week presented a better-drilled Siersema eleven at Baltimore. Here before a large crowd, Juniata broke all score predictions and outplayed the Johns Hopkins University aggregation to the tune of 7-0. Andrews scored on a line buck and Atalski dropkicked the extra point.

Drexel was the attraction in the first home game of the season, Oct. 12. With a strong running attack upheld by accurate passing, the Dragons left the Hill with a 19-0 victory. The scoring was done in the first three periods.

On the trip to Alfred College, the Indians showed poor form in being defeated 21-0. The Braves started strong and almost scored; then they lost fight, co-operation and thereby the contest.

With the defeat of the previous week stinging them into fight, Juniata's squad visited Carlisle, the home of Dickinson College. Here Juniata fell before an outplayed opponent 19-6. Andrews scored in the first quarter after a few minutes of play. J. C. made ten first downs to Dickinson's eight and carried the ball 516 yards to their opponents' 409. Truly, a moral victory!

Home Coming Day was a huge success in that the Susquehanna gridders were downed. Playing in a field of mud, Juniata defeated the Little Crusaders for the first time in its history. Petty slid and scrambled over the line in the second quarter. A line plunge for the extra point failed. In the last quarter, after a brilliant run by Petty, the ball was plunged over the chalk mark by Harley. Rowles failed to make the extra point on a plunge. The historic game ended 12-0 and Juniata's warriors had broken the jinx that Susquehanna football teams had over them. A pajama parade, a funeral march and the cremation of Susquehanna in effigy closed this most desired victory.

Manager Berry

The next week, Nov. 9, the Siersemamen played Upsala at East Orange, N. J. Juniata outclassed the Swedish machine in all points of the game. The final score was 12-0 though the Andymen did not extend themselves to make it. Harley plunged over the goal once in the second period and again in the third. The kick for extra point failed in each instance.

George Washington was met the next Saturday in Washington, D. C., and fell before the experienced J. C. attack 32-0. Andrews scored all five goals, scoring once in the first quarter, twice in the second and once in each of the remaining periods. Two extra points were scored by Mark and Rowles, the first by dropkick and the other by line plunge.

The last game of the season presented Wagner College on the College Field. They left for New York carrying a 12-0 defeat. The touchdowns were both scored in the first half by Andrews and Harley, respectively.

JUNIOR VARSITY

Playing the Bellwood American Legion on Armistice Day, the Junior Varsity was held to a 13-13 tie. Hoffman plunged over for the goal and extra point in the first quarter. Fetter took the pigskin over for the rest of the score.

Bernard Andrews
Quarterback
(Captain and Captain-Elect)

One of the reasons for the success of the football season would be the co-operation manifested in games—for individualism was lacking; but the main cog in the work of the season may rightly be named Coach Siersema. With unfailing endeavor, he molded the Blue and Gold machine into what it was. He was ably assisted in his plans by Captain Andrews and Manager Beery.

BERNARD ANDREWS

"Fuzzy" repeated as high scorer for J. C. and his mates chose him leader for another year. As quarterback, he instilled a co-operation among the players that once started was unbeatable.

JOHN ROWLES

Fullback

After four years of hard plugging, Rowles managed to win the coveted "J." Consistency and perseverance were two of his best qualities. You could always depend on this boy to put his best into the play.

WILLIAM JAMISON

Center

"Bill" was in there to hold his part of the line against all opposition. His playing accounted for many of J. C.'s successful line bucks.

ROBERT PEEL

End

This boy played his end of the line like the veteran that he is. Not many end runs went around Peel and you could feel sure that he would be in every play.

ALDEN CODER

Tackle

"Use your hands, fellas!" was Coder's war cry. With a "C'mon, gang!" he was in the thick of the fray from start to finish.

ROBERT MARK

End

With stellar performances now and then, "Bob" played his usual consistent game. Dropkicking was another thing that helped put this lineman in Juniata's football limelight.

JAMES HARLEY

Fullback

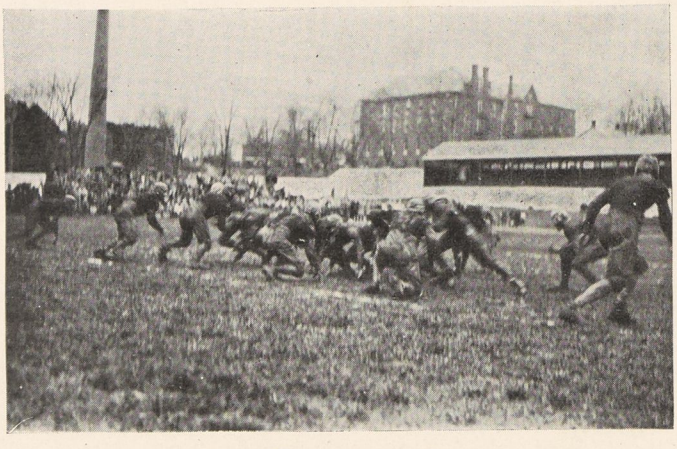
Though changed from an end to a backfield man, Harley starred. His plunges knifed the opposing line to pieces while his kicking kept the ball far in the enemy's territory.



GOING THROUGH THE LINE

MITCHELL ATALSKI

End

Blocking punts was "Mitch's" specialty. Twice at Johns Hopkins, this end stopped a boot. A consistent game at end was assured with Atalski in his position.

KARL LAPORTE

Halfback

"Zeke" played regular until he sprained his ankle in the Upsala game. He was the successful receiver in all of Juniata's lateral passes.

MERRITT BEEGHLEY

Guard

This lineman played every quarter except one though it was his first year in varsity football. "Mert" always was found in the thick of the pile doing his bit.

LINO PETTY

Halfback

With "Big Holsie" out because of injury, Petty filled the gap so well that he played every quarter thereafter. Bouncing and bounding featured when Lino carried the ball—especially was it evident in the Susquehanna game.

HYLTON REBER

Guard

Reber was good enough to win a varsity berth. His defensive work was faultless while his cooperation with the forwards on offensive was of the best.

BERNARD HOLSINGER

Tackle

Scrapping from start to finish, "Young Holsie" made his position on the varsity. His broad shoulders filled gaps in the line on the defensive while they opened "holes" on the offensive.

Basketball Review 1930

The Indians went through a bad season of basketball, losing ten out of sixteen games. With three of the lettermen of the previous year back and fine material to supplement it, hopes ran high; but as the season commenced it was evident that the something that makes victories was lacking.

January 3 ushered in the season—on which date—Juniata met the Bethany passers here. The visitors came out easy victors by the score 62-15. Accurate shooting and fine passing by the Bisons featured during the fray.

After the interim of five days, the Holsieites left on a five game trip eastward. On the 8th Muhlenberg College came out on the long end of a 33-15 score. Holsinger and Laporte scored most for Juniata in this melee. The next night, Thursday, Upsala College was met. The Indians played winning ball here and defeated the Upsala five 37-19. Renninger with eleven points and Andrews with thirteen points tallied best for J. C. Friday night found the Siersemamen the guests of Drexel, whom they defeated in a hard game 22-18. The consistent playing of the whole Indian quintet was very much in evidence. The last night of the trip was spent at Elizabethtown. Here the Indians were defeated by the very slim margin of two points, the score being 37-35. Juniata finished this game with but four men.

On Jan. 18 Gettysburg College quintet was the attraction on the home floor. The Bullets had no trouble in winning, for Juniata's teamwork was far below par. The score was 46-17.

Seven days later J. C.'s traditional rival was met at Selinsgrove. Here the Little Crusaders in a fast and close game came out on top, tallying 24 points to Juniata's 21.

Gallaudet came to the tepee of the Indians on Friday, Jan. 31, and left the Hill nursing a 27-23 setback. The Mutes trailed during the whole game and never threatened dangerously though the score seems to indicate that they did.

The second eastern trip of four games began on Wednesday, Feb. 5. That night the tall Rider College machine presented a court game that was invincible and Juniata was forced to accept the 54-23 loss. The next evening in Philadelphia, the College of Osteopathy was the opponent. The Indians topped the Doctors' combination in a close game 35-31. Long shots featured in this contest. Penn Military College was played the following night. The Soldiers spurted in the second half to overcome J. C.'s lead and the game ended in their favor, 41-27. The last game was played against St. Mary's five at Emmitsburg. The Saints outclassed the Juniata Braves, winning by 36-14.

Altoona cancelled and Juniata was idle on Thursday, Feb. 13.

Saturday, Feb. 22, was Home Coming Day and Juniata's best of the past defeated Juniata's best of the present to the tune of 43-36. Weller, George, Snider, Livengood, Grove, Schlosser and Wolfgang represented the Alumni.

The College of Osteopathy in the return game here was set down by the Siersema cagers 32-27. The game was one of long shots.

At Lewisburg, March 1, the Bucknell Bisons put another loss on the Indians' record when they outscored their guests 30-19.

The season was ended in a fitting way by defeating the Susquehanna tossers here on March 4. Thrilling and close was the game and Juniata came up from behind to lead by six points at the closing whistle 27-21. Captain Holsinger played his last game for Juniata.

ALDEN HOLSINGER

Despite a bad knee from football season, "Oboe" managed to stay in the game with the rest. Shifty on the floor, sure in shooting, deceptive in dribble, "Holsie" gave trouble to all his opponents.

BERNARD ANDREWS

Forward (Captain-elect)

With a southpaw shot that was uncannily accurate, "Fuzzy" scored when points were needed. The end of the season found "Andy" leading the scoring for J. C.

ALBERT MEANS

Forward

A hard, aggressive player, Means came through with enough quarters to win his "J." Co-operating with his mates, "Al" was in the game always. Especially commendable was his fine work against Susquehanna here.

ROBERT PEEL

Guard

Switching from basketball manager to player, Peel made good. At guard "Bob" presented a stumbling block to many a forward.

PAUL RENNINGER

Forward

"Pat" was the only Freshman to break into the varsity. His aggressiveness helped keep the team on the go while his maneuvers had his guard guessing continually.

ARTHUR STEELE

Guard

The steady qualities of this player were realized this season and "Art" played his quota of quarters in a fine way. You could depend on "Art" in pinches.

KARL LAPORTE

Guard

When the team was in dire straits, "Zeke" arranged to sink a bullet-like shot from the rear court. Very bad indeed was the going if he did not outscore his forward.

Baseball Review 1929

This season was somewhat better than that of 1928 in that five games were won. The pitching for Juniata was of the best but driving power was lacking and many games were lost by slim margins. Only two games were cancelled because of rain.

A southern trip opened the season. April 10 saw the Juniata squad at Bridgewater College where a 10-10 tie was played. The game ended because of darkness and cold. The following day Staunton Military Academy was the foe of the Indians but wet grounds and rain made it impossible to play. Friday after a long ride the Siersemamen came to William and Mary College. Hunter was on the mound but the Southerners eked out a 3-1 victory. Atalski's homer accounted for the lone tally for J. C. In the last game of the trip the Quantico Marines gave the Millermen a hard battle at Quantico when they won by a 6-0 score.

The first home game of the season was with Washington College on the 19th. It resulted in a 9-8 defeat for Juniata.

On the following day the Indian squad journeyed to State College. Hunter was the slabman and though he had twice as many strikeouts as the State pitchers, the game was lost 4-0.

Penn Central was the opposition in the second home game and handed Brown's charges their fifth straight loss of the season by a 6-5 score. Andrews hit best in this contest, having a triple, double and single.

May 1 and 2 saw the Siersemen on a short eastern trip to Myerstown and Annville. At the former place they met the Albright nine which was vanquished

4-3 in a thirteen inning game. Hunter starred, whiffing fourteen batters and hitting safely twice. At Annville the game began with Snyder on the hill. Rain stopped the tilt which promised to be a good one.

Saturday, May 11, found the Millermen at Altoona where they played the Altoona Works. "Windy" pitched the game which ended in a 4-3 setback for Juniata.

On May 16 began a three game jaunt eastward. The first day the Indians lost to Drexel in a ten inning game 5-3. Ursinus at Collegeville was defeated in another ten inning tilt by the close score 3-2. Fetter won his "J" pitching this one. At P. M. C. another defeat was sustained. The close score 3-2 is evidence that it was a nicely twirled game.

May 23, 24 and 25 presented three games in a row. Lebanon Valley in a game here eked out a 3-2 victory from "Jim." The next day Muhlenberg College in another tight game came out victorious at "Windy's" expense. The score was 3-1. The 25th, Susquehanna was met at Selinsgrove. Here the Little Crusaders avenged the last defeat given them by Hunter and shutout J. C. 3-0.

Bucknell visited the Hill on the 30th and the Indians ran the gauntlet with the Bisons, defeating the highly-touted Halicki in a slugfest 13-2.

The last game of the season was played here with Albright College. The contest was loosely played and resulted in an 8-7 victory for the Indians. Hunter added another win to his list. Beery, Conner and Miller played their last game for Juniata College.

RALPH MILLER

Catcher (Captain)

"Bing's" stocky form was the symbol of confidence to the Juniata nine. His peg to second was nemesis to base stealers while his choppy hits counted many times in scoring.

JAMES HUNTER

Pitcher (Captain-elect)

A speed ball that dazzled; a curve that broke too fast for effective hitting, "Jim" always showed the ace that he was. Especially good was his work against Albright.

GEORGE BEERY

Center Field

In a pinch "Moon" usually came through. His fielding was faultless and his hitting—well, the home run at Ursinus will explain about that. The center field position will be hard to fill with his graduation.

JOSEPH CONNER

Right Field

With "Joe" in right, the outfield presented a formidable defense. He shone in the Penn State game with three bingles and sparkled against Bucknell with his almost impossible catches.

ARTHUR STEELE

Shortstop

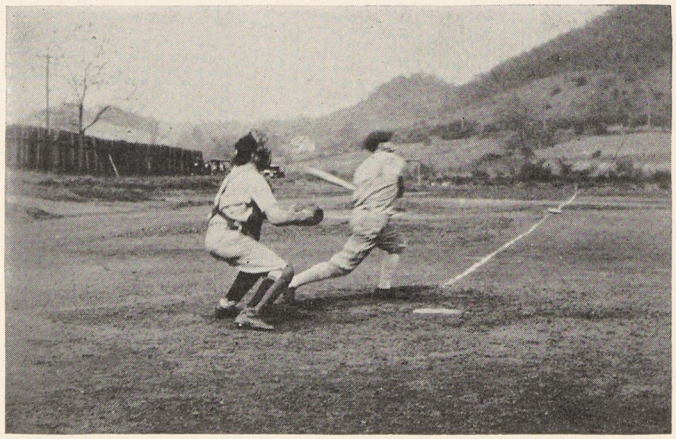
In "Art" the Indians had an infielder that could stop them. He was responsible for many of the putouts at second base. "Art" played the same kind of ball in every game.



IT'S A HIT!

BERNARD ANDREWS

First Base

First base was well taken care of by "Andy." Few indeed were the errors incurred while his fat batting average headed the list. You could depend on this slugger to come through in tough places.

MITCHELL ATALSKI

Left Field

When a fly ball was hit into "Mitch's" territory you could depend on a catch. Only two errors marred his fielding record. He collected his home run in the William and Mary game.

JOSEPH FETTER

Pitcher

This big boy got the coveted "J" when he defeated Ursinus 3-2. Continued use increased rather than decreased the speed of "Joe's" ball. His batting average was up among the leaders.

KARL LAPORTE

Second Base

Quick pickups and quick throws characterized "Zeke's" fielding. In the lineup he batted clean-up and he cleaned up quite a few times on enemy pitchers.

JAMES HARLEY

Third Base

"Jim" with his hard peg and sure throw made an ideal "hot corner" man. At Albright his two base hit broke up the thirteen inning game.

Track Review 1929

The track team was left practically intact from the year before and the new material that came in more than filled the vacancies. Out of the four meets Juniata was victorious in three and second in one, winning from Dickinson here 67½ to 58½, from West Chester away by the close score 63½ to 62½, from Susquehanna 99½ to 26½. They were second in the Central Pennsylvania Conference Meet held at Carlisle where Albright (combined Schuylkill and Albright) defeated J. C. 48½ to 43 2/3.

On April 23 the track season opened at Juniata with the Interclass Track Meet. For the second consecutive year, the Class of 1930 took honors, having 71 points to their credit. The Freshmen followed with 26, the Seniors with 24 and the Sophomores with 18. Holsinger led the individual scoring, having 31 points while Apel with 13 and Pentz with 10 followed.

At the 35th annual Penn Relays, April 27, Juniata was represented by Captain Holsinger and the relay team composed of Apel, Henry, Miller and Jamison. "Holsie" captured eighth place in the decathlon against a field of nationally known track stars while the mile relay team placed fourth in a fast race.

The first regular meet of the season was with Dickinson who later became Class "A" champions of Central Pennsylvania. The final score was 67½ for Juniata and 58½ for Dickinson. Fetter with a win in the shotput, discus and second in the javelin (college record for the discus and javelin broken), Apel with a first in the 100 yard dash, 220 yard hurdles and a second in the 220 yard dash and Holsinger with two seconds, 120 high hurdles, discus, a tie for first in the pole vault and a third in the 220 yard hurdles, were the leading scorers for Juniata.

On the trip to West Chester on May 11, the Juniata spikers had a hard and close battle, winning by the small margin of one point, 63½ to 62½. Juniata and West Chester each had six first places but J. C. was much stronger in second and third positions and thereby won the meet.

Manager Schrock

At the Central Pennsylvania Conference Meet a week later, the J. C. tracksters came in second, falling before the combined Albright-Schuylkill College by the score 48½-43 2/3. At this meet Holsinger broke the conference shotput record.

The last meet of the season was at Selinsgrove with Susquehanna University, May 24. It was a very one-sided match and ended 99½-26½. Juniata secured twelve firsts while Susquehanna got only two. Many Juniata trackmen won their "J" in this meet. Miller, Henry, Boyer, Rairigh and Snyder ended their track careers for Juniata in this contest.

With most of the team back again next year, Juniata will look forward to another successful track season.

ALDEN HOLSINGER

Captain

High Hurdles, High Jump, Shot, Javelin, Pole Vault, Decathlon

As a captain, "Oboe" was the ideal one. He set the pace for his charges and in any meet managed to tally more than a part of the points.

MARLYN MILLER

880 Yard Run, Mile Relay, 440 Yard Dash

With a jerky stride, Marlyn covered the ground with surprising speed. For that reason, he was anchor man on the relay team and one of our best 880 men.

JEWETT HENRY

Mile, 880 Yard Run, Mile Relay, 440 Yard Dash

The stride and form of this boy were big points in his running. You could depend on Jewett to place in any event he entered.

EUGENE APEL

100 Yard Dash, 220 Yard Hurdles, 440 Yard Dash, 220 Yard Dash, Mile Relay

The "fastest being at Juniata" may well be the title of Apel. When "Wid" wanted to win a race he did so and it was a picture to see him beat his man to the tape.

WILLIAM JAMISON

Mile, 880 Yard Run, Mile Relay

"Jamie" ran the same way from start to finish and it took a doughty rival to pass him up. He was the third man in Juniata's mile relay team.

STANLEY ROWLAND

Pole Vault, 220 Yard Dash

With an easy grace, "Stan" scaled the heights with his pole. His slight form rose up and over the bar at Susquehanna to win him his "J."

READY TO VAULT

MERVIN PENTZ

High Jump, Broad Jump

Always a sure point-getter, "Merv" was an attribute to J. C.'s track team. A short run, a skip, a quick twist and he was over the bar. In both his events he was sure to place.

JOSEPH FETTER

Discus, Javelin, Shot

This husky's first year in track at Juniata resulted in two broken records. The discus and the javelin records fell before his powerful arm. Much is expected of "Joe" in the next season.

CLEADETH SNYDER

Javelin, Discus, Shot, High Jump

A long arm drew back and heaved the javelin for a win at Susquehanna. Snyder was good in all field events and his all-around ability was praiseworthy.

CHARLES SPROUL

Discus, Javelin, Shot

"Chuck" tried his best to score for J. C. At S. U. he met with success in winning the discus throw and thereby he became a proud possessor of a letter.

MILTON FETNER

High Hurdles, Discus

Although "Milt" had a bad knee, he trained every day without fail. His perseverance accounts for his success. He won his letter by coming through in the hurdles at Selinsgrove.

JOSEPH GUTSHALL

100 Yard Dash, 220 Yard Dash

Speed, speed, speed was "Joe's" at his bidding. He sure made a runner step when he dug into the turf with his short strides.

Tennis Review 1929

By winning four and tying two out of its thirteen matches, Juniata made a fairly successful season out of a very difficult schedule.

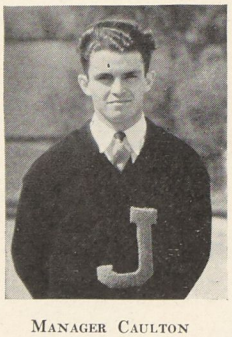
In the first match of the season against Franklin and Marshall, Juniata lost 0-6.

The next match was a draw—sharing honors with Elizabethtown 3-3.

Desiring to make up for the two former matches and knowing of no better foe to pick on, the racketeers took over Susquehanna U. to the tune of 6-0.

On a three game trip, May 6, 7, 8, the game with Dickinson was rained out, Susquehanna was again shutout 6-0 while Juniata took the losing end of a 5-2 score at Bucknell.

Again on the home clay the volleyers showed they had profited by the trip by giving the Osteopathy team a trimming 5-1.



MANAGER CAULTON

In a match with Moravian at Bethlehem neither team won, the score being 3-3.

On the second day at Philadelphia the score sheet saw another loss marked up against Juniata as Drexel won 4-2. Meeting Elizabethtown on the way home, the Indians dropped another one by the score 4-3.

Remembering the defeat suffered at the hands of Drexel before, the team played hard tennis here and more than got revenge by their 5-1 score, May 25.

In the last match of the season, the undergrads defeated the old grads giving the Alumni one point out of six.

CLAUDE FLORY

Captain

As captain of the team, Claude showed his fine leadership. Always cool under fire and quite capable, he instilled into the squad self-confidence.

ALVIN UNDERKOFFLER

Manager-elect, Captain-elect

"Undie's" playing may be termed a type in that he was on the go from beginning to end. Though his first year in regular competition, he came through in fine fashion, losing only two singles matches.

CRAIG LONGWELL

Coolness was this boy's big point. A Freshman in college and new in college competition, Craig managed to play a commendable game at all times.

HAROLD GROSSNICKLE

With a terrific serve, "Grossie" started and finished his sets. His slashing, smashing tactics won the esteem of his opponents. In doubles with "Undie," he was unbeatable.

MEN'S INTRA-MURAL ATHLETICS

Men's Intra-Mural Review

The Physical Education Department under Coach Siersema has striven to have every person at Juniata participating in some form of athletics. With the Sophomore and Freshmen gym classes as a base, rivalry is fostered among the students and this has resulted in an inter-class basketball tournament, a volleyball tournament, a Sophomore-Freshman football classic and a Sophomore-Freshman baseball tilt.

The annual football classic between the first and second year men resulted in a 12-6 victory for the Freshmen. Playing in a sea of mud, these teams did much to foster the right kind of spirit between the classes.

The next thing in line was the Inter-Class Basketball Tournament. The whole school attended these games and cheered for their respective teams. The close of the schedule saw the Seniors, Sophomores and Freshmen in a tie for first place. With a wealth of material on hand, the Frosh captured first honors by defeating both the Seniors and Sophomores in two close and fast games.

Last spring saw the continuance of the volleyball matches. At the close of the season there was a tie between the Seniors and the Sophomores which was not played off. The volleyball competition is going strong at the time the Alfarata is going to press, but nothing definite can be predicted.

Once more the Inter-Class Track Meet ended in a victory for the Class of 1930. For the second consecutive year this class has carried away the honors. The scores were: Juniors 71; Freshmen 26; Seniors 24; Sophomores 18.

In the annual baseball game between the Freshmen and the Sophomores last year, the first year men were walloped by the score 17-5. This closed the intense rivalry of these two classes as well as the intra-murals for the year.

The spirit of athletics at Juniata has developed much through intra-murals and there is evidence that these sports between classes will continue.

Co-ed Basketball Review 1930

The Juniata co-eds' basketball team completed another successful season. Under the steady training of Coach Burke, in spite of the fact that only two games out of the six played were won, they managed to roll up a total score of 178 points for the season over and against only 204 points totalled by opponents.

To the remaining varsity of last year, namely Hower, Fleck and Sell, Coach Burke added Price, Pentz, Fouracre, and Houck.

During the two months of playing and hard workouts, eighteen girls sat regularly at training tables and came out daily for two hours practice.

A cheerful scrapper with a spirit for fair play —this is the quality in our captain which every member of the team faithfully followed.

MARIE PENTZ

"Pentz" kept things moving in her center of the floor. Pep and vigor accompanied her in every move.

OLIVE SELL

Forward and Side Center

Playing either one of two positions with accuracy, "Ollie" never failed to capture the ball from her opponent. No game was too fast for her and she put her whole self into a fray.

RUTH PRICE

Forward

Our high scorer just rolled up the points—and from every angle on the floor. Cool and steady, Ruth displayed marvelous efficiency in every pass.

MABEL FOURACRE

The pivot area was fortunate in receiving this Freshman lass as its keeper. We are sure Mable will be a standby to the team in the future also.

ELIZABETH HOUCK

"Beth," our tall brunette, was sure to be one ahead of her forward. With ease and grace, "Beth" played her position to the great dissatisfaction of the opposition.

WOMEN'S INTRA-MURAL ATHLETICS

Sophomore Gym Class

Women's Intra-Mural Review

Since the co-eds have only one form of intercollegiate athletic competition, namely, basketball, there are many forms of athletics played among the classes. Here as in the case of the men, the girls' gym classes serve as the foundation upon which to build inter-class competition. Coach Burke has strived hard to instill into the girls a spirit of emulation and it seems that interest is manifesting itself in ever increasing quantities.

Last spring inter-class contests in volleyball and baseball were held. All those girls who played received 50 points and those on the winning teams received 100 points toward their "J." Points were awarded for tennis on the same plan. In the volleyball contest the Sophomore girls won out. The baseball games were full of thrills, such as girls running to third base from home plate, running to second base then back to first on a hit, being caught off base thinking about their make-up, etc. Some of these games were quite close but the Frosh seemed to have the best hitting team and thereby won the baseball series.

Freshmen Hockey Team

Sophomore Basketball Team

This year under Coach Burke a new era in co-ed athletics has arisen. A new point system makes it necessary to have 550 points in order to receive a "J." A class team membership gives 100 points while regular attendance to practice allots 50 points to those girls who do not play regularly. Varsity basketball adds 150 points and every fifty miles hiked per semester means 75 points. After a girl makes her "J," 600 points a year entitle her to a star.

In the fall, hockey games were played. Two teams were formed, namely, the Senior-Soph and the Junior-Frosh. The final reckoning saw the Senior-Soph team ahead with three wins while the Junior-Frosh group had only one. On Home-Coming Day the teams played and the Freshmen defeated the Sophomores by the score 3-1. This ended hockey competition.

The Co-ed Inter-Class Basketball Contest was a victory for the Sophomores who won all three games played. The Frosh followed closely behind with only one loss.

As the Alfarata goes to press, the girls are organizing a volleyball tournament. Practices are held occasionally and competition will soon start.

Through intra-murals, the women of Juniata have the opportunity to win their "J." This entitles membership into the Women's "J" Club and proud can be the co-ed who has won her letter, for it means an all-around athletic ability.

The COLLEGE of ALFARATA

"Juniata is a College of ideals, of hope, of faith. It is not as Emerson once characterized education, 'a gesture of despair.' We believe in the essential good of youth and in the abiding good of Christian culture. To the attainment of these ends I solicit most earnestly the sympathy, the counsel, the help of all good people and I invoke the guidance and blessing of Almighty God. With these strong-sided champions to help, Juniata will carry on."

This quotation from the Inaugural Address of President M. G. Brumbaugh expresses the ideals of the Institution.

The famous "Blue Juniata" of historical Indian fame flows near the College paralleled by the Broadway of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the William Penn Highway.

The College offers degree courses in Arts, Science, Commerce and Finance, Home Economics, Music, and Education. The study of the Bible is an integral part of all courses.

Juniata solicits the patronage of Christian parents and earnest students.

September found us here again with improvements—on us and the campus; Prexy has a bungalow (!!) and the orphans a new home—at last we can see the Men's Dorm—and don't forget the showers. Now the co-eds get an "inning."

Party No. 1 got us together with a big bang. A reason? To be sure an' ice cream sandwiches are guaranteed to take. Speaking of "taking," the initial order for Cupid almost overwhelmed the little man on that first Sunday afternoon.

And then came breakfast on Flagpole for the co-eds. Yummy! Even to terra firma in the eggs and the Y. M. Cabinet over the fire!

Vast and ever-vaster are the uncharted realms, the undiscovered values that the Bible unfolds before expectant pilgrims. Luring vista of moral insight, expanding horizons of social vision, enlarging perspectives of divine meaning unroll before them.

During the past twenty-five years, hundreds of Christian leaders have found in Bethany Bible School a satisfying source of leadership in their search for truth. Here are trusted and experienced pilots that steer the way to the ultimate haven. Here is a ship that turns neither to the right hand nor the left—it is the established policy of studying the Open Book with the Open Mind.

Bethany Bible School is prepared to give expert guidance and supervision for persons wishing to enter any one of the major lines of Christian leadership. Bethany Bible School specializes in giving religious training to college-trained students.

Soon there came another lesson on "fish and soup"; the Faculty Reception pulled down a success. And great was the fall thereof! Season, leaves, masculine hearts!

The Frosh warbled their songs one day while the Sophs wrecked their rooms—they'll get used to us, bless their hearts! And we to them—but we do think drills on the fire escapes unnecessary for them. Why, green things don't burn!

Then we knew we were back—another moral victory; we bowed to Muhlenberg 25-0. Bosh!! We've heard all that before.

After while there came the night that tape measures flourished on Brumbaugh; a popular magazine had announced the measurements of the ideal American woman.

Forgive! We take it all back. No moral victory this time. "Fuzzy" and his gang wiped up Johns Hopkins U., but where's the pep? We've lost it, can't find it, doggone it, where is it?

Ground hog for dinner one evening—I never did care for sausage. So dumb! So are girls in chemistry, they say. But what about the 97?

And then the churches "received." So did we—"the kind Mother makes."

Another glorious Mountain Day—the Old Forge with hikes, bread lines, splashes and a sprinkling of buckety buck. What a day in Prexy's old haunts!!

And then one day Prof. Conner informed us he is a lazy man. Not really? We'd never suspect it, of course—not so, Lou Miller—she says this is only her fourth incarnation.

We all remember the Light Jubilee while Edison thrilled the listening world. Likewise, the day "Miss" Fay Axtell appeared in the season's latest. And a few of us recall the feminine plunge into buckety buck.

The Kid Party in October proved John Fiske right. We are all infants yet. We didn't even know that if all the hogs in the U. S. were one hog, he could dig the Panama Canal with two roots and a grunt. But we did know that if all the beans served at J. C. were one bean, it would obliterate Huntingdon from the map. We did know that!

Then came Home-Coming. What a week-end! The Sophs pelted the poor Papooses with cabbages. A shame they lost their heads to do it! And we wallowed S. U. to defeat. Monday was a holiday (self-imposed). Parades and the cremation of our ancient enemy, not to mention the glorious bonfire with the old fence, made the Faculty as superfluous as a third party.

In a J. C. Penney Co. store you will find the same modish frocks and coats that smart New Yorkers wear. There is always a good assortment, too, and—because we buy for over 1,400 stores at once—the prices are almost unbelievably low.

Won't you let us show you how easy it is to "afford nice clothes."

Not much happened then until Thanksgiving except a few incidentals—par exemple, Eva Hartzler ate an onion one day to discourage conversation in lab. The gases ran too much competition. And we learned that John has tonsils and Amos hasn't. Or maybe 'tis the other way. Marvelous identification!! But if one will be born twins—! And a few remarkable erudites discovered that Spenser's education consisted of works of Aristotle and Plato and other Latin poetry. Let's take a vacation on top of that——

Back from the turkey dinners to a snowy campus—and Petty proved he could carry an armband as well as a football.

Then came a fire drill after midnite and we learned the secret of impermanent waves.

"Sun-Up" very soon chalked up Angeline as a new star for the Masquers.

And just before Xmas came gobs of Juniata specialty—"Dates with nuts rolled in sugar." After that one we had to go home.

But January found us back and all set for basketball. Xmas was hard on Polly Baughman—every time she entered a room she rarely visits, she declared she had a twinge of consciousness.

Then came the Glee Club Concert—we were introduced to the quaint and effective custom of rubbing noses. Some people need theirs worn down.

One day there arrived white freesias in a green vase—and salted nuts. "We" celebrated.

Talk about license plates made to order—"Bussy" is sporting a blue and gold J C-31 and Phyllis has a J C-32—but they are no more apropos than the funeral coach bearing U-2.

And then the Exams! Oh! Ah! Ugh! Even Johnnie didn't cough. And that was over!

Queen Elizabeth had yellowish-red hair and Christine is sure she is a blonde at heart—notice, gentlemen, if any!

We blush to admit our ignorance but only recently we learned from a co-ed that there really is a cow for cream, one for butter and another for buttermilk. Where does condensed milk figure? But that's no worse than the dear child who has surgical tendencies—he came to the library the other day and asked for Virgil's Adenoids.

Blizzards! Brr! Ice! Snow! And a Sharpe went flat one day.

Valentine Day and Dan came around in good earnest. Carol Dee sports a solitaire while the rest of us boasted mere roses.

Is it worse to keep things in little boxes or sleep under eleven blankets—that is the question. But let's forget it——

"I'm painting the clouds with sunshine. Toodle-ee-oo!! Oooh, just a nice little Lincoln!" It works! Let's gold-dig, co-eds.

Presto! It was Winter Home-Coming. Petty swung to achieve his "crossing of the bar" and the Juniata family took a good hearty laugh.

Before we knew it, March had come and we went to press playing hide and seek with the ads.

It's a wise man who knows when to shut up. Be kind to us and wish some on us in the future and we will return the compliment.
